THE TIMES OF YOUR LIFE

Reflecting on the past year, among the many happy memories, one tragic event stands out, the death of Mr. Tom Wolf. Mr. Wolf taught industrial arts and was a ninth grade coach for several years. He was highly respected and liked by everyone. Mr. Wolf will be greatly missed but fondly remembered as the years pass.

MJHS caters to individual students

Song:

"Good morning yesterday, you wake up and time has slipped away."

In the early hours of the morning students are awakened by the harsh sound of the alarm clock. As we stumble through the door into the commons. We meet our friends and another day begins. Our school day starts with homeroom. Students participate in activities, where fun is disguised as a learning experience. Quiet study proves to be a necessity, as many students rush to get their work done. In intramurals, we build our bodies as well as our minds.

Trey Cooper finds that the card catalog is useful for working on his assignment.

Sally Henderson and Kim Burke find quiz bowl a challenging activity.

Linda Bird and Lisa Benham help in intramurals by refereeing volleyball games.

Mr. Callis makes swimming an interesting class.

A cheery smile does much to brighten a dreary day.

Some people would do anything for an "A."

Song: And suddenly it's hard to find, the memories you left behind. Remember? Do you remember--the laughter and the tears, the shadows of misty yesteryears?

Susan Goodlett takes advantage of the study time to finish her work.

Swimming doesn't seem so bad once you get used to the cold water.

Leanna Taylor finds that typing isn't as easy as it looks.

Students learn in a relaxed atmosphere.

Steve Bright, Tim Barringer, and Gary Higgins find time to laugh between classes.

Song:
The good times and the bad you've seen and all the others in between, remember. Do you remember the times of your life?

The snow brought both good and bad times for many people.

Frequent stops at her locker is a must for Debbie Skirvin.

To many students, it seemed the bad times outweighed the good; but as we reflect back, they seem to have evened out.

Much hard work goes into putting our yearbook together.

Goofing off is a favorite pastime of many students.

Jay Cope land and Robbie McDowell enjoy a game of cards during intramurals.

Song:

Reach back for the joy and the sorrow, put them away in your mind, for memories are times that you borrow to spend when you get to tomorrow.

As Richard Ice finds out, not knowing the answer often brings disappointments.

Mr. Herron shows that concentration and patience often bring the best results.

Beth Elston contemplates an equation in algebra.

Ninth grade students congregate before civics class.

Looking back on our past year at MJHS, we find memories stored in a cavern of thoughts, out of which we will borrow them to relive the past, memories that we will welcome as time goes on, and some memories that we will want to erase. We sat through some classes absorbing every word that came from the teacher's mouth; but, in others, no matter how hard we tried, it was a struggle to pay attention. Perhaps we were preoccupied with thoughts of the activities in the halls or the party Saturday night. The years may fade some, but we will always carry the reminder of our days here at the junior high.

Shelly Methany and Kim Williams toil over a science test.

Seventh grade students pause during a busy day.

Ramona Burke and Nancy Smith brave the fall weather to beautify the school grounds.

Snowy weather brought many fun times for students but....

Warm weather was welcomed by all.

Song:

"Here comes the setting sun, the seasons are passing one by one so gather moments while you may."

Mr. Paul helps Mark Jenkins and Rick Mix with a perplexing science problem.

We started school in late August with eager expectations of what the year would bring. The following months brought with them the passing seasons and only too soon the year was gone. Not only did the weather and the scenery change with the seasons, but indoors the atmosphere changed to a crisp fall which was prematurely ended by a blustery winter which was followed closely by a refreshing spring.

Donald Bennett participates in that favorite spring sport, baseball.

Ninth grade students keep the school grounds free of litter.

Song:
Collect the dreams you dream today. Remember?
Will you remember the times of your life?

Brian Kelly puts the final touch on his picture.

Swimming proves to be the favorite class of many students.

Jeff Bates and David Irwin focus their attention on their teacher.

Ninth grade students listen closely as counselors instruct them on signing up for next year's classes.

Got any threes? Go fish!

Shelly Anderson and Carla Eades investigate an open locker.

If only this would fit.

Vernay Reindollar, Eric Norris, Cjuck Barnes, J. D. Firth, and Todd Brindell provided the music at an April jr. high dance.

Bobby Bladen is amazed with the outcome of a science project.

Ninth grade students enjoy unusual forms of entertainment.

The most successful dance by far was the 3rd one, complete with a band made up of area students.

Chuck Barnes entertained all with his singing at a Student Council dance.

Ninth grade band practices for upcoming parades.

Julie Plessinger and Debbie Skirvin helps out the Student Council concession stand.

Laurie Lee goes into her wind-up.

Ninth grade health classes studied many aspects of first aid this year. The most popular was bandaging, where students practiced on friends and fellow students. With a variety of rags used as bandages, people were wrapped and tied until the room began to resemble a mummy's tomb.

MJHS HONORS DAY

The highlight of the school year for most ninth grade students was Honors' Day, held on May 20. Awards were given not only for outstanding scholastic achievement but for service too. The highlight of the program was the awarding of the citizenship awards. The recipients of the two coveted awards were Mary Hassfurder and Brent Howell. The citizenship award is the highest honor that can be given to a student.

All ninth graders dressed up in their best clothes, guys in sharp suits and girls in flowing dresses. Not only were the students different on the outside, but it seemed inside too a change had taken place. During the day the class was united as one. Everyone celebrated together and honored each other. It was a day to be remembered always, not only to end our junior high days, but also to begin our future.

Ninth grade science award winners proudly stand before M. J. H. S.

Mr. Bates addresses parents and students at Honor's Day.

Students eagerly accept awards as Mr. Taylor proudly observes.

Mr. Grozier speaks of the notable achievements of the 9th grade class.

Mrs. McKenna congratulates Scott Frazier as he receives a Social Studies award.

Brent Howell and Mary Hassfurther receives applause after being named the citizenship award winners.

The award winning ninth grade band provided entertainment for the Honors' Day program.

Award winning students at the 1977-78 9th grade Honors Day were:

Math Honor Students

Scott Freeman, Maria Scott, Jon Wardlow, Kyle Shadday, Marcia Vires, Scott Frazier.

Science Honor Students

Maria Scott, Anne Carney, Jon Wardlow, Randy Johann, Lisa Calvin, Kim Miller, Scott Freeman, Anita Scroggins.

Health Honor Students

John McIntire, Anita Scroggins, Shelly Anderson.

Language Arts Honor Students

English: Lisa Calvin, Scottie Frazier, Mary Hassfurther, Maria Scott, Anita Scroggins, Julia Vaughn, Marcia Vires, John Wardlow. French: Anne Carney. German: Scott Frazier, Scott Freeman. Spanish: Andrea Yearout, Heidi Ison.

Practical Arts Honor Students

Student council leads the way

The Student Council officers are Tim Sauley, president; Kim Roseberry, vice president; Tammy Sexton, treasurer; Beth Elston, secretary.

The Student Council representatives accomplished many things this year. They sponsored many dances that proved to be very enjoyable for the student body. For a money making project, they sold carnations that could be sent to friends for Valentine's Day. The Ninth Grade Student Council representatives, along with other interested ninth-graders, worked to improve the appearance of our school ground by sacrificing their quiet study days to clean lockers, windows, and halls, and to dispose of litter around the grounds and buildings.

Seventh and eighth provide young leadership

The 8th grade Student Council representatives are Brad Lowry, Cheryl Detmer, Randy Wingham. Row two: Jay Brooks, Carmen Crabtree, Shelly Methany, Brenda Bircher, Brian Kelly. Row three: Paul Owens, Chris Bear, Jay House Jack Lacy.

The 7th grade Student Council representatives are Jeff Knox, Joe Welch, Kim Kroll, Darrin Lowery, Julie Tyler. Row two: Cathy Callis, Shawn Auxier, Dana Kindoll, Pam Massie, Cindy Little, Mary Beth Kring. Row three: Jeff Ayler, Holly Gallitin, Troy Morgan, David McDormont, Russell Sullivan.

*Newspaper reports correct news;
Yearbook captures the memories*

The yearbook staff members are Dawn Ferrel, Judy Carlow, Lori Riedel, Julia Vaughn, Deni Hall, Heidi Ison, Kim Miller, Shelly Anderson, Carla Eades. ROW TWO: Helen Lyons, Susan Fensel, Lisa Calvin, Sara Rueter, Belinda Cloud, Debbie Bear, Beth Elston, Nancy Craig, Anita Scroggins, Michele Horine, Jackie Youngblood, Julie Plessinger, Kathy Love. ROW THREE: Jill Anderson, Penny Challis, Rick Mitchell, Paul Dunker, Stewart Cutshall, Joe Lawson, Tom Horton, Julia Aich, Jennifer Roberts.

Becky Hall, editor of Bear Necessity worked to keep up with the current news at MJHS.

Joanne Barnes started the year as editor of the Bear Necessity but when she turned in her resignation Becky Hall (co-editor at the time) stepped up to her place. The newspaper carried articles on fashion, sports, outstanding students, editorials, upcoming events, Dear Minerva, etc... The Dear Minerva section answered the letters sent in by MJHS students about the problems they faced.

The yearbook staff, under the direction of Michele Horine, editor, and Lisa Calvin, co-editor, gave the yearbook a new look. This year the yearbook contains spring sports and Honors Day pictures. Although this meant that the students wouldn't receive their yearbook until summer, the majority of the students felt that the new addition was well worth the wait. In the top left corner the Bear Necessity Staff members work to make a better newspaper. In the bottom left corner Yearbook Staff work to organize the pictures of the yearbook.

Lisa Calvin and Michele Horine work to keep memories of MJHS in mind.

Every Thursday 7th, 8th, and 9th grade girls met to take part in athletic events sponsored by G. A. A. Mrs. Hooten and Mrs. Behymer, the leaders of this organization, provided the girls with guidance in such activities as basketball, softball, volleyball, track and bowling. To participate in bowling the girls ran over to Ritters Bowling Alley so that they could get first-hand experience.

Safety patrol becomes our latest addition

A new feature in school safety was the addition of a safety patrol composed of 9th grade boys and headed by Mr. Bates. Each morning, despite the weather conditions, they conducted the traffic on the school grounds and supervised the students near the bus lanes. The members are Keith Birge, Kevin Cope, Robbie McDowell, Donald Smith, Dewayne Huff, Row 2: Rick Little, Paul Liter, Mr. Bates, Greg Sparks, Trey Cooper, and Dale Sublett.

As we came to the junior high, we were all unaware of the responsibilities and new experiences ahead of us. In this building we found a home. Some of us will be leaving, but we'll leave others to carry on. The memories of the days of our junior high years, though short lived, will never be forgotten. They will become the times of our lives.

Song

Good morning yesterday,

You wake up and time has slipped away, And suddenly it's hard to find - the memories you left behind. remember, Do you remember?

The laughter and the tears, The shadows of misty yesteryears? The good times and the bad you've seen and all the others in between. Remember?

Do you remember the times of your life? Reach back for the joy and the sorrow. Put them away in your mind, for memories are time that you borrow to spend when you get to tomorrow. Here comes the setting sun. The seasons are passing one by one so gather moments while you may, Collect the dreams you dream today, remember. Will you remember the times of your life?

We the yearbook staff, would like to end our annual with the song "The Times of Your Life." We feel this song is appropriate because throughout our junior high years, we have collected memories, dreamed dreams, and pursued the future. We hope to capture all of these moments in our yearbook and feel that the words of Paul Anka can best express them.
