*We
are* all class!

Why Did He Go?

*Sometimes your friends
don't live that long.*

*But we all must learn
to be very strong.*

We try not to think of what made us fight.

But we hope and pray that the end brings light.

*I know you hurt, so do I.
Day by day we try not to cry.*

*Don't think of what the day
may bring without him by your side.*

Think only of days past when you laughed so hard you cried.

Your parents want to know why you mope.

*It's hard to explain
you've lost all hope.*

*I wonder,
if he were still alive,
would our friendship,
too, survive?*

— Joe Bliton '93

PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

*Life is like a rose;
without the proper assets, it will shrivel and die.
The mind must always be clear of weakness
and it should always stay pure.
The vital assets of life are
to give love
and receive it in return,
to give gratitude to all
and you will be looked upon as pure.
You should not look upon people according to the color of their skin,
the uselessness of their efforts,
their desires in life
or the ability of their mind.
If anyone judges life according to these few statements,
only then
will they be looked upon as pure.
If not
one will shrivel and die
like a rose.*

— Jimmy Sedam '93

FOREVER FRIENDS

*Friends are forever, you and me.
Friends are forever for others to see.
Friends are together when you're feeling sad.
Friends are together through good and bad.*

*Friends are loving, laughing, caring and such.
Friends are there when you're in a rut.*

*But most of all, a friend, you see,
is there for you whenever you need thee.*

*If ever, my friend, you fall and get hurt,
you might need someone to help pick you up.
If forever, my friend, it need be,
forever, my friend, you can turn to me.*

So Leslie, Tonya and the rest of you, forever my friends you can always find true . . .

*. . . friends are forever, me and you,
friends are forever through and through.*
