1967 Rebian

This is the Rebian, the yearbook of Southwestern High School, for the school year 1966-67. A yearbook has many purposes, but its main one is to provide memories, to be savored long after actualities are past. This, we hope our yearbook can do better than any individual memory.

Individuality means different things to different people. To a young rebel, it may mean overturning the patterns that school and society have set for him; to a "modnik," it may mean being different for differences' sake; but to most students, it simply means being unobtrusively, unpretentiously himself.

And, meaning different things, this omnipresent individualism of necessity expressed itself in different forms. In the classroom, on the basketball court, at parties, on the track field, and even on the dance floor, each student pursued the goal, unaffected by the actions of others. How he went about attaining this goal, too, was a matter of individual concern.

The senior class, of course, was the one which, more than any other, began to sense the headiness of the now partly-fulfilled promises that their individualism had made. As early as November, a senior could begin to feel the cohesiveness, the bonds that had tied him to his classmates for four or more years, begin to slacken. One more of an endless line of senior classes was preparing to scatter, each member to his own goal in life, as he had done in school.

And so it will continue, next year, the year after, for countless years to come.

By Mike Sample

Each Man Pursues His Own Goals

Man spends his entire life seeking the goals he has set for himself. One whose mind has matured may find that the goals which he has been pursuing are actually too high to attain. Many men at the conclusion of their lives will boast their success of attaining their hopes and dreams. Men who admit true success have been foolish failures, for the goal which can be reached is an unwanted one, worthy only of smaller men than themselves.

Academics

This year students from Southwestern and surrounding schools entered their first year of study in the new Area Vocational School at Versailles. The school has not yet been completed but it is hoped construction will be finished by next fall.

Vocational School Begins Classes

Practice Helps Prepare for Future

(below) Corliss Smith, Brenda Shephard, Joy Hall, and Dora Scroggins work in the kitchen to prepare themselves for future homemaking.

Classes proved to be not all work. The junior history class and the senior government classes went to Indianapolis to observe the State Legislature at work. They also toured the Scottish Rite Cathedral and the Allison Plant.

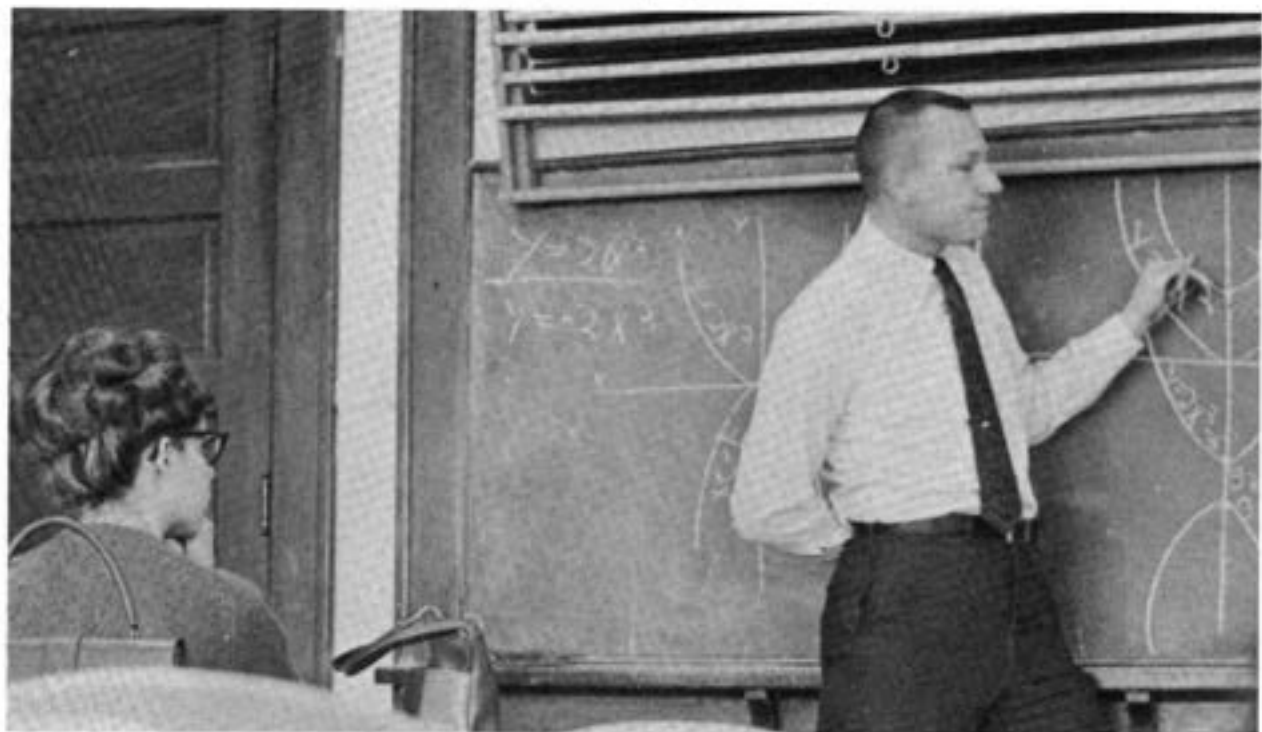

The sophomore history classes went to the J. B. Speed Museum in Louisville in March.

History and Math Provide Challenges

Some of the scientific problems confronting Southwestern High School students this past year were: how to survive the smell of chlorine gas, the dissection of worms, and how to understand the projection of color.

Southwestern science classes vary a great deal through four years of study. When one is a freshman, biology must be dealt with; when a sophomore, physical science; when a junior, chemistry; and if still interested, when a senior, one can tackle physics.

Each year the Spanish classes have a party at Christmas. These parties are quite an event. They include skits and, naturally, the breaking of the candy-filled piñata.

Languages Add New Dimensions

Assemblies Add Spice to Routine

(right) Mike Sample was chosen as Outstanding Senator at the Purdue Legislature Assembly and Debates Conference. Mike was also honored to be a semi-finalist and a Finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test.

(below) A county-wide competition for Queen of Youth Appreciation Week brought honor to Jane Snyder as she was elected to serve as Queen. Art Daun, a senior at Shawe, was elected to serve as King. Jane was also chosen as Southwestern's D. A. R. Good citizen. She competed for the county honor by taking a test on American and Indiana History.

(below left) Richard Cline captured the Veterans of Foreign Wars Oratorical Contest for this county, but he didn't stop there. Rich went on to place first in the state competition and seventh in the national competition. Richard was also chosen as a winner in the League of Women Voter's essay contest. He received a free trip to Washington, D.C. and New York.

At this year's Student Legislative Assembly, Rich was voted outstanding committeeman and outstanding representative.

And last, but not least, Rich was chosen to be Southwestern's Boys' State delegate. Tom Patterson was chosen as alternate.

(below) Lana Turner was Southwestern's 1967 delegate to Hoosier Girls' State. She and Richard were selected on the basis of leadership and interest in government. Marcia Jackson was the alternate.

Organizations

Band Wins Honors in

Brown County Contest

The band made its first appearance of the school year in the Regatta Parade in September on the Friday before the races. A few months later, with the start of the basketball season, the band began making regular appearances at home games, playing at half time and between games.

During the year the band traveled to Brown County to participate in the Brown County Marching Contest. In competition with many other schools from all around the area, the band brought home an award for placing 1st in the contest.

Mr. Ballenger was making plans to participate in the ISCMA contest to be held at Grotherville this year.

This year's Rebelettes for the band were Deanna Dean, Martha Pulliam, Carol Hylcord, Michelle Inskeep, Jane Snyder, and Marcia Gray.

Chorus Learns Finer Points of Music

(above) The Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Dunbar, practices on a new song. Much work goes into preparation of a new number before the public ever hears it.

FBLA Holds Sadie Hawkins Dance

The Southwestern FBLA chapter sponsored perhaps out-of-the-ordinary dances of the year on December 9. They called it the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. The idea behind it was the comic strip feature Lil' Abner, which deals with a group of hill-billies. The dress for the affair was school clothes or "Dogpatch" style. Another odd aspect was that the girls invited the boys.

In the planning stage was the FBLA Talent Show. The contest was to feature local teen-age talent.

Officers for the year were Joyce Mundt, President; Phyllis Jones, Vice-President; and Carla Stucker, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Hicks was their sponsor.

Pep Club Leads Cheers for Teams

The 1966-67 Pep Club took on a new look as the group grew from forty-five enthusiastic voices to sixty. Backing Varsity cheerleaders Jane Snyder, Becky Adams, Sandy Smith, and Karen Fields and Junior Varsity cheerleaders Jana Cook, Connie Fox, April Daugherty, and Sherry Adams, the cheer block continued to learn new routines throughout the year.

For the '67 season new vests of reversible blue and red were made. Each member then bought one of the school emblems sold by the Honor Society to set off the attire. At the Jefferson County Invitational Tourney the club added a new feature by using blue and white flash cards to spell out "S. H. S."

Officers for the year were Marcia Gray, President; Jan Server, Vice-President; and LeAnn Humes, Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. Barnett sponsored the group.

GAA Enjoys Sports

The Girls' Athletic Association was involved in a variety of activities during the 1966-67 school year. Softball was played in the fall, and then bowling was taken up. Next on their agenda was billiards, which they went at with enthusiasm. The month of February saw the girls tackle roller skating. In November the GAA brought the Harlem Astros to play against the Southwestern Faculty.

On the 18th of February, five girls represented our school in the GAA Invitational Bowling Tournament at Marion, Indiana. The girls made a very good showing, with Betsy Shepherd placing second in competition with girls from all over the state. The other members of the bowling team were Marcia Gray, Sara Chitwood, Carol Hylcord, Pam Hudson, and the team score keeper, Sherry Adams.

GAA - (1st row) Miss Yancey, J. Snyder, M. Gray, M. Wehner, T. Cook, S. Smith, D. Dean, M. Pulliam, B. Hauck, J. Server, C. Hylcord, S. Long, B. Adams. (2nd row) B. Shepherd, B. Conard, J. Chapman, C. Adams, S. Chitwood, P. Hudson, M. Imkeep, J. Pettit, J. Beagles, D. Hensler, S. Box, D. Strasemeier, L. Crafton, V. Williams, G. Campbell. (3rd row) B. Rowlett, S. Adams, K. Hubbard, K.

Snyder, S. Shuck, S. Davis, D. Keach, K. Fields, K. Hylcord, S. Manaugh, A. Traugott, D. Scroggins, B. Shepherd, N. Taulman. (4th row) P. Reed, J. Mundt, F. Bruther, M. Hudson, S. Chitwood, S. Kreeger, B. Brooks, D. Weber, A. Daugherty, D. Woodfill, B. Crafton, R. Vestal, P. Boldrey, B. Wehner, K. Richie.

GAA officers for the 1966-67 school year were Becky Adams, President; Carol Hylcord, Vice-President; Sharon Manaugh, Secretary; Karen Hylcord; and Brenda Shepherd, Reporter. Miss Yancey sponsored the organization.

(at right) There was slow music, too, at the GAA sock hops.

FHA Holds Anti-Litter Week

(above) Linda Hay is installed as President of the Southwestern FHA on September 26.

The Future Homemakers of America started the school year with the installation of the new officers on September 26. Those installed were Linda Hay, President; Betty Bower, Vice-President; Brenda Shepherd, Secretary; Sheila Kreeger, Treasurer; Mary Kuppler, Project Chairman; Marcia Gray, Recreation Leader; Barbara Brooks, Historian; Sharee Ashley, Parliamentarian; and Debbie Koontz, Reporter. Mrs. Epply sponsored the group.

In an effort to clean up the halls and grounds of the campus, FHA members initiated Anti-Litter Week. A contest was held to see which teachers had the most trash in their waste cans at the end of the week. By virtue of the great amount of trash deposited in their cans, Mr. Huffman and Mrs. Barnett were named Mr. and Mrs. Trash.

Also among the club's activities was the annual FHA Sweetheart Dance. Gandi Bonsett was crowned FHA Sweetheart at the affair.

Future Farmers Learn Skills

The Southwestern chapter of the Future Farmers of America put up some advertising for their chapter by posting two new FFA signs at the Hanover city limits last fall.

During the year, Don Marshall, Audron Stillhammer, Larry Ford, and Robert Cain worked at being able to determine the different types of soils and their suitability for growing various crops. Representing Southwestern at the district soil judging contest, the group placed fifth in the district.

In order to raise funds for their activities, club members held two turkey shoots, one at Thanksgiving and one at Christmas.

The 1966-67 FFA officers were Audron Stillhammer, President; Don Marshall, Vice-President; Mike Hall, Secretary; Robert Cain, Treasurer; Larry Ford, Reporter; and Marshall Hall, Sentinel. The club's advisor was Mr. Huffman.

Drama Club Entertains Students, Faculty

(above) John Schwarm and Deborah Hensler play the part of a man and his wife who suddenly become the way to humanity for two wandering hoboes in "Mugsy's Merry Christmas".

(below) Much painstaking work goes into giving a performance that special touch, and Dixie Keach, Joni Huenemann, Tom Freeman, and Leon Hostetler are practicing arduously to learn their parts. Leon played Mugsy and Tom played his not-so-honest friend.

The Drama Club, under the direction of Mrs. Anderson, was busy during the '66-67 school year giving performances for school assemblies and also for the community.

At the Christmas assembly, they presented a two act play entitled "Mugsy's Merry Christmas". This was the hilarious story of two hoboes who wandered around the countryside. They didn't want to be dishonest, but they didn't know how to act respectable. Mugsy and his friend went into the home of an average American family while they were gone, and when the family returned, an amusing mix-up occurred. Things are all straightened out in the end, however, and Mugsy and his pal receive a lesson about the kindness in people's hearts.

The Drama Club's biggest production in 1967 was "Mr. Peepers", a three act play presented to the community.

The club's 1966-67 officers were Tom Patterson, President; Marcia Gray, Vice-President; and Jane Snyder, Secretary-Treasurer.

The F. T. A. started the year off with the annual "Back to School Dance" at the first of school. Later on in the year the organization sponsored their Teacher Appreciation Day at school. Club members took over teachers' classes during the fifth period on that day while the teachers were served coffee and doughnuts in the cafeteria.

F. T. A. Officers for the year were Lana Turner, President; Steve Vaughan, Vice-President; Marsha Jackson, Secretary; Shannon Lewis, Treasurer; Mary Kuppler, Reporter; and Tom Patterson, Historian. The club's sponsor was Mrs. Anderson.

FTA Dance Starts Year

Honor Society Sells School Emblems

The Southwestern Chapter of the National Honor Society held its meetings on the first Monday of each month. Bill Fox, as president, presided over the meetings. Larry Turner took care of the club's records and finances as Secretary-Treasurer of the Society. Because Bill and Larry were the only initiated members of the organization during the first part of the year, they had to double up on the officers of the club.

Perhaps the biggest accomplishment of the Honor Society during the year was their selling of the school emblems. These were sew-on patches of red, white and blue which featured a profile of a Rebel, with Rebel flags in the background. Mr. Mount was the club's sponsor.

Sentinel Staff Plans Variety Show

(at left) Much originality is needed to keep a newspaper interesting. Here, at a Sentinel staff meeting, ideas for the next issue are discussed.

Southwestern's school newspaper, the Sentinel, published an issue every two weeks during the school year. Included in the Sentinel were sports news, editorials, general school news and feature stories.

The Sentinel staff, however, did not only publish the paper, but participated in several other activities in and around the school. In November staff members, together with the Student Council and government classes, sponsored a mock election.

Plans were made later in the year to hold a variety show. The show which was to include acts from high school students from Madison, Shawe, Scottsburg, New Washington, Deputy and Southwestern, was scheduled for April.

Debate Club Members Learn the Art of Effective Public Speaking

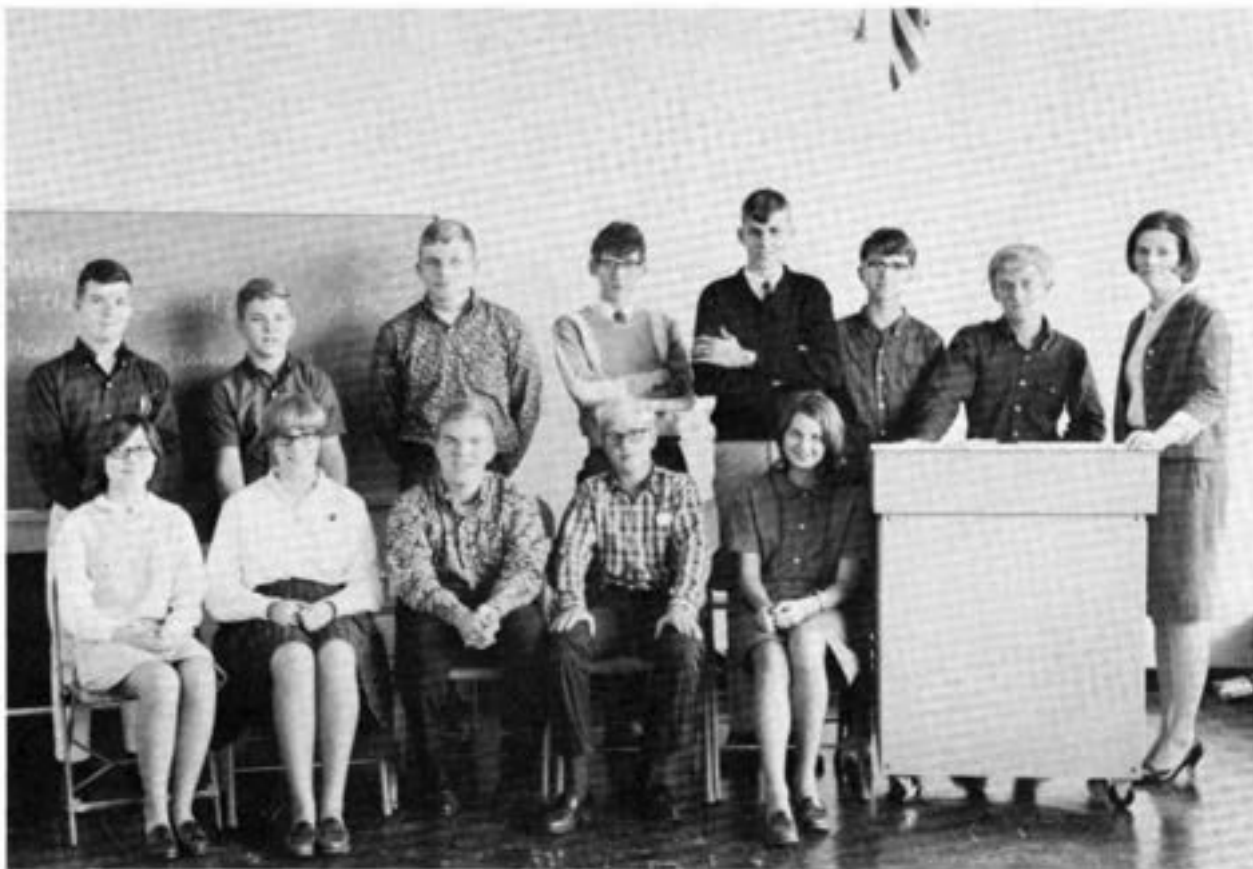

The Southwestern Debate Club, sponsored by Miss Krise, set out to achieve an impressive record for the 1966-67 debate season, but ran into stiff competition, not only for the novice debaters but for the veterans, too. The club ended up tying its first few debate meets, then dropping one to the experienced debaters from Madison. Teams which the club met included Shawe, Madison, and Scottsburg. However, before the end of the year, the debaters hoped to have debated teams from Batesville and Clarksville.

In December the club attended the annual state Debaters' Conference and Legislative Assembly held at Purdue. Rich Cline and Mike Sample brought home honors as outstanding members of the student legislature. Other events included discussion and extemporaneous speaking.

Mike Sample delivers his first affirmative speech as his Madison opponents prepare arguments against it. Southwestern tied in this, the first debate of the season.

DEBATE CLUB - (1st row) M. Craig, K. Clemenson, G. Hobbs, M. Campbell, L. White. (standing) D. Hobbs, J. Hobbs, A. Hutton, M. Sample, R. Cline, C. Mann, B. Fox, Miss Patricia Krise.

Rebian '67 - (1st row) J. Beagles, J. Bayne, J. Snyder, J. Green. (2nd row) S. Vaughn, B. Conard, J. Crabtree, N. Conklin, J. Huenneman, S. Manaugh, D. Hobbs.

Rebian Changes Color, Design

The 1967 Rebian staff choose to make some changes in the previous format of the Rebian, both in the handling of the use of color throughout the book but also in layout, design, and photography.

Jean Crabtree and Nancy Conklin, student photographers, did almost all of the photography in the Rebian, occasionally assisted by Dan Hobbs. Parker Studio of Columbus took the senior pictures, and graciously helped out with other pictures. Jean Crabtree attended a special night school course given at the vocational school to learn some of the new uses of available light photography.

Others on the staff planned pages, cropped pictures, stamped names, typed endless lists and copy, and tried to lend moral support to all and sundry.

Student Council

The Southwestern High School Student Council had a busy year during the 1966-67 school session, with the group's sponsor, Mr. David Mount, spurring the council on to its most active year yet.

The ones responsible for leading this action were the council's '66-'67 officers, who were Rich Cline, President; Laurie White, Vice-President; and Ann Austin, Secretary-Treasurer, all juniors. This year's members were chosen last spring by the student body for the purpose of expressing the students' views to the Administration.

In the fall, the council presented the school with its own flag, which now hangs proudly in the gymnasium. Also in the fall, the council finally succeeded in having a pay telephone installed in front of the gym. In October, Jim Green and President Rich Cline traveled to Richmond High School to represent the school in the annual Student Council Convention.

Has Busy Year

November saw the council and the Sentinel Staff co-sponsoring a mock election, which was met by eager response on the part of the students. Student Council members worked enthusiastically during the opening months of the new year on what they hoped would be the climax for all their assemblies of that year, International Day. Through International Day, the council hoped to present the opportunity for students to learn more about countries in which they were interested, by having speakers who had lived or visited in these countries. Other assemblies were also presented during the year in an effort to keep the school informed.

Southwestern and at several other schools. In most cases two encounters were held with each opponent, one here and one away.

Laura White and Richard Cline enjoy renewing acquaintances with an opponent after a match here at SWHS.

Studies, Activities, Friends, and Traditions

For those growing up in the Southwestern Jefferson County Consolidated School District, school is not something that begins at eight in the morning and ends at three-thirty in the afternoon. The school is truly a center of community activity.

Students spend many evenings and weekends working on and participating in projects that are educational, benevolent, or just plain fun. Some educational activities include debates, plays, and concerts.

Clothing drives and such projects as the Toys for Tots dance help to benefit others. This year classes competed to help send Red Cross parcels to servicemen overseas. Individual clubs collected food for Thanksgiving baskets for the needy.

Highlight Seasons

Dances, both formal and informal play a part in growing up. Sock hops after the games are usually the first dances attended by most students, with the big one always to look forward to - the senior prom.

Through the school, Southwestern students were able to make trips to gain insight into the way our world runs. Some attended a performance of the play, "The Miracle Worker." Seniors went to Louisville to see the film, "My Fair Lady." The sophomores made their annual visit to the Speed Museum to gain a better understanding of our heritage in literature and history. Juniors and seniors viewed the Indiana legislature in action during an all-day field trip to Indianapolis.

(above) One of the many accomplishments of the student council was the planning of the installation of the pay phone outside the gym. The phone was much in demand after ballgames and school activities.

Brenda Shepherd Reigns as 1966-67 Basketball

A traditional activity at Southwestern is the crowning of a basketball queen. During the half-time of the last home game of the season, sophomore queen candidate, Brenda Shepherd, escorted by Bill Scroggins, was crowned 1966-67 Basketball Queen. Last year's queen, Nancy Jett, participated in the festivities by crowning Miss Shepherd. Members of Brenda's court were Marcia Gray, senior; Pam Sauer, junior; and Janet Rogers, freshman.

The basketball queen is chosen by members of the basketball team. The boys also serve as escorts in the formal ceremony which proves a fitting climax for the excitement and pageantry of another Indiana basketball season.

Queen

Queen Brenda Shepherd beams happily at the close of the ceremony which has taken weeks of cooperation on the part of many people to prepare.

Decorations are planned and executed, voting completed and careful rehearsals were conducted. The flawless ceremony which impressed the gathered members of the school and community was the result of this preparation.

The crowning of the basketball queen marks the close of one season, and yet provides a beginning of anticipation for yet another year to come.

Winter Wonderland Kicks Off Winter Activities

The second annual Winter Wonderland dance, sponsored by the Student Council, was termed a huge success. Dancing to the music of the Stepping Stones, students enjoyed the first all-school dance of the year. Sandy Smith and Mike Shuck, seniors, reigned over the activities. Other candidates were John Johnson and Janet Rogers, freshmen; Wanda Smith, sophomore; Richard Cline and Pam Sauer, juniors.

Candles and crepe paper helped transform the familiar multi-purpose room.

Meeting With Friends Sparked School Year

Although classes, sports, and planned activities took up the greater part of school time, some of the most relaxed and enjoyable times came from informal meetings with friends and classmates.

Sports

With the starting of the school year, comes the beginning of the Baseball Season. This year our slugging Rebels had another winning season under the coaching of Joe Barnett and Assistant Coach Gary O'Neal. In the Spring the Rebels will join other schools in a state-wide play-off to determine a state champion. (left) Junior Mark Porter makes a hasty run for home during this game with Shawe. ## Foley Leads Rebels to Winning Season;

Sliding Home, senior Larry Turner tries to score, but is called out by the empire. Even though Turner was out, Southwestern won this game against Shawe. Turner played second base and was one of four seniors who led the Rebels to a third place in the conference. Steve Pigman, Kenny Adams, and Steve Burris were other seniors.

First Shutout

Steve Foley and Rick Persinger receive certificates naming both members of the All-Conference Team. Foley led the Rebels in the batting department with a batting percentage of .480, and also led in batting in the conference.

Rebels Improve Team Against Some of the Conference's Best

Before the shot of the gun, when concentration is important, and the muscle tension is high, our Southwestern harriers prepare for another Cross Country meet. Even though Southwestern tied for fifth place in the Ohio River Valley Conference meet, their star runner Mark Keach did not run due to an injury acquired early in the season. Next year the Rebels hope to have a more experienced team. Five juniors, four sophomores, and three freshman will make the Rebels a definite conference contender.

Although Coach Weber's description for the season was expressed in one word ("sad"), there were some highlights. A sound Cross Country team next year could be the root of an all-conference campaign.

This year Southwestern started a Junior Varsity Cross Country team which will prepare our younger runners for the up-coming years. (right) Senior Mark Keach, and sophomore Gary Furnish dress to run their daily practice sessions. There were only two seniors on this years squad. Twelve members will be returning next year. The two seniors on the team were Dusty Short, and Mark Keach. Mark was a four year letterman. The Rebel harriers will truly miss the services of these two fine seniors.

Rebel's Varsity Basketball Keeps Spirit Up

Southwestern lost their chance to win the Jefferson County Invitational Tourney once again this year. The Rebels lost to Vevay in the final game of the tournament. A field goal in the last second of play by the Warriors made the Rebels lose by a two point deficit.

Although the Rebels did not win the tourney, the fast action and determination of the team brought out the support and loyalty of the local fans. The closeness of the final game made this what is known in sports circles as a "real heart-breaker."

(above left) Steve Vaughan, Assistant Coach Stan Nay, Coach Stan Weber, and Lin Pray show signs of approval in this game with Jackson Township. The Rebels won the game by a score of 64 to 61. (above right) Five foot eight junior Dan Turner maneuvered past two Crotherville players for an easy two point lay-up. Dan scored 17 points in this game. The Rebels won the game with a score of 63 to 52. The Rebel squad will only lose two seniors, Dusty Short and Steve Pigman.

Team Fights Throughout the Season

With the closing of game coming, Coach Stan Weber calls time-out to consult with his hard working ball players. Strategy was used in the closing moments of this game to beat Jac-Gen-Del. The 1966-67 Rebels were about the most hustling team Southwestern has ever had. The Rebels lost many of their games by small margins of one or two points.

(above) HIT THOSE BOARDS, Pat Shuck controls his position under the net. Although Pat had problems with his knees all season he still played on. As a team the Rebels broke a school record for rebounds in one game. The Rebs pulled down 70 against Moores Hill.

(right) GET'EM STRETCH, Steve Pigman drives in for two points to help the Rebels effort. This lanky senior became Southwestern's high point man and also made his mark in the rebound department.

Rebels Gain Experience

(left) FINNEGAN STRIKES AGAIN, This little sophomore was the sparkplug in the Rebels motor. Jim scored 19 points in the first game of the season. He has two more years of basketball left to play.

(above) Coach Weber instructs Lin Pray on improvement of his defensive position in the Jefferson County Invitational Tourney. Southwestern went to the finals before being beat by Vevay with a last second shot.

(right) Pat Shuck makes it look easy for the fans, but it takes a second effort on the part of the individual. Pat started several games for the Rebels.

Rebels Pull Upsets

(above) At the end of every ball game, after the fans have left and the ballplayers have dressed and gone home. The shower room is lonely place except for the presence of Manager Steve Vaughan, who's job isn't done until everything is hung up and put away.

Jr.-Varsity Floors Balanced Attack;

Junior Robert McDowell fights for the ball during this Junior Varsity ballgame against Jac-Cen-Del. Even though the young ballhandlers lost this game, it did not break their Rebel spirit. This was Coach Stan Nay's first year of coaching on the Southwestern staff. Although the team was plagued with sickness, the boys fought hard for every game in which they played.

The team floored a well balanced squad. Losing the first two games of the season, they bounced back to a better-than-average won-lost record. The Junior Varsity supplies the Varsity with a fresh group of players each year. Each player gains self-confidence and experience by playing on the squad.

"STONER SHOTS A LONG ONE" In the final seconds of the game between the Southwestern Jr-Varsity and Jac-Cen-Del, David Stoner fires long. Unfortunately, the Rebels lost a heartbreaker in an overtime. This year's B-team also floored a balanced scoring effort. Led by sophomore Tom Brawner, the J.V.'s posted a very encouraging season. Leading rebounder for the "Little Rebels" was Rick Brawner. Tom and Rick teamed up in heading the team to victory.

Keeping in stride with the Varsity, the young Rebels lost several games by a margin of one or two points. With combined skill and hustle, the horizons for next year's Varsity appear very bright.

"FROSH GAIN EXPERIENCE" Although the frosh carted a mediocre season, they have gained valuable experience for their up-coming years of basketball.

Sophomores Spark Winning Season

Big Occasion for Shouting

(above) Varsity and Jr. Varsity cheerleaders constructed a victory-triangle to arouse school spirit and boost the Rebels to victory. (right) Senior girls cheered the Rebels to victory. Karen and Audrey Bruther participate in the cheer-block.

Sharon Richards finds something to yell about in the game with Jac-Cen-Del. The Rebels up-set the Eagles, the leading team in the conference, by a score of 63 to 55.

Cheerleaders Rally Rebel Spirit

It's not all fun being a cheerleader. Behind the scenes are unknown hours of work; practice after school, attending clinics and going to camp. Last summer Becky Adams, Karen Fields, Sandy Smith and Jane Snyder attended camp at the University of Kentucky, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Barnett.

HANOVER EXPLORER SCOUT POST 8

The Hanover Explorer Post #8 was organized two years ago. Since then the post has been very active in the community. They bought and re-conditioned a cabin in the Chain Mill Valley, adjoining the river. As a community project, the post tore down a house next to the Hanover Baptist Church. They took many field trips and had many money making projects. They have received an award for their activities in the community.

Thoughts Turn to Prom, Graduation

As April brings the first real warm weather, students begin to find it more difficult to concentrate on lessons and begin preparations for the two biggest events of the year - the prom and graduation.

Decorating for the prom takes approximately two weeks of working evenings, but the final results transform the elementary multi-purpose room into a glamorous setting for the last dance for the departing seniors.

Those who are graduating look forward to their early release from classes, and also to the round of parties and outings which accompany commencement. Invitations are sent and relatives invited to the ceremony, and at last the biggest thrill - receiving the cap and gown which is the symbol of four years of work and accomplishment on the part of the student.

Senior Ceremonies

At the annual Honors Day assembly, the highest award of the senior class, that of valedictorian, was presented to Mike Sample. He and Bill Fox, salutatorian, received gold honors cords to wear with their caps and gowns.

The following departmental awards were given: mathematics and science, Bill Fox; social studies, Jim Green; industrial arts, Eston Smith; business, Joyce Mundt; foreign language, Carol Hylcord; English, Mike Sample.

A National Merit Scholarship was won by Mike Sample. The P. T. A. scholarship went to Jane Snyder.

Reigning as the lovely and gracious queen of the Junior-Senior Prom was senior Sandy Smith.
