GETTING THEIR ACT TOGETHER

Grover's Corner, a small town in New Jersey, was the setting for this year's Drama Club production. The play, Oscar Wilde's "Our Town", was performed on May 2, 1980, and before the student body on May 7.

The story dealt with the life and death of the residents of Grover's Corner. Emily (Cindy Webster), George (Mark Totten), Mr. and Mr. Gibbs (Randy Maricle and Teresa Melgard) and Mr. and Mrs. Webb (Todd Richmond and Cris Suarez) were portrayed well. This season's play was directed by Miss Pam Alvis, a student teacher from Hanover College.

Officers of Drama Club this year were: President, Randy Maricle; Vice-President, Cris Suarez; and Secretary-Treasurer, Robin Rosenbury. Larry Lynch was chosen as the outstanding actor of the season.

Southwestern had an active International Thespian Society. This year the organization was headed by President Sonya Rosenthal, Vice-President Larry Lynch, and Secretary Robin Rosenbury.

The members of National Honor Society were among the most active participants in the school. The year started with the selling of Kathryn Beich candy as the group's only money making project; it was successful. The sales were headed by Tim Brawner, Tammy Mahoney, and Jeff Shephard. With the money, the chapter bought new furniture for the office in order to establish a waiting area. They contributed a table and two chairs. The organization also went to see "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" at Derby Dinner Playhouse in Clarksville, Indiana, and a Reds-Phillies ballgame in Cincinnati, Ohio. National Honor Society also honors two seniors with a $200 scholarship. This year Tim Brawner and Karen Wagner were the recipients of this award.

Besides selling candy the group performed services around the community and in the school. They helped the Hanover Park and Recreation committee by filling bags with candy for their annual Halloween party. On days of basketball games, band concerts, or other school-related activities decorations could be found on the lockers of the NHS members who were involved in the organization which performed that evening. The spring and fall were also times to induct new members. This year sixteen members were added to the rolls. The final activity was the presentation of honor cords to the seventeen graduating seniors in National Honor Society.

WRITERS UNITE

Quill and Scroll, the international organization for high school journalists, consisted of sixteen members this year. The group was headed by Advisor Marcia Morrill/, and self appointed Honorary President Keith Hutton. There were only five members at the start of school, but six were inducted in January. The new members were treated to lunch at the Brierpatch restaurant in Madison, Indiana. Jama Bibb, Marlena Imel, Mary Ann Shelton, Bill Varble, and Angie Wyne were given membership on Honor's Day. Honor's Day was also the time for the recognition of outstanding work done in journalism by people who were unable to be inducted into Quill and Scroll. Those honored were Cynthia Brightwell, Joyce Hertz, Mary Hertz, Dawn Ligon, and Janice Watson. Sonya Rosenthal, Cristina Suarez, and Karen Wagner were also honored for their work in publications during their high school career. To end the year everyone met at the Morrill home for a picnic.

USING TODAY

Future Homemakers of America realize that to put off things until tomorrow will not work. They have worked and used their "todays to build tomorrow". FHA was busy with several different activities to raise money for their chapter. The majority of the money went to the children at the Madison State Hospital. The girls had several parties for the children and had a good time in the process.

The FHA officers worked hard to make this one of the FHA's best years. Debby Jackson, President; Tracey Wyne, Vice President; Angie Stockdale, Secretary; Mary Kay Thomas, Treasurer; Kim Sedam, Recreation Chairman; Angie Wyne, Projects Chairman; Teresa Hendrickson, Reporter; Elaine Law, Parliamentarian; and Karen Chambers, Historian, served as officers of the year. Mrs. Sarah Green served FHA as the advisor.

To finish the year in a grand manner, FHA went on a trip to King's Island. They also had a hayride and a picnic at the Green's home.

A GOLDEN FUTURE

The Southwestern FFA started the new school year with a new advisor, Glen Fite, native Kentuckian.

The officers elected for the 1979-80 school year were: John Wehrkamp, president; Creg Adkins, vice-president; Tracey Lichlyter, secretary; Kim Schiphorst, treasurer; Steve Uebel, reporter; and Rick Royalty, sentinel. Adkins took over the office of president after the sudden death of President John Wehrkamp in January, 1980. John will be sorely missed by everyone at Southwestern.

Members of the FFA participated in various contests during the year. The parliamentary procedure team headed by acting-president Creg Adkins placed fourth at the District XII contest.

In leadership contests Shannon Meadows and Brian Amick placed third in the district contest, and Tracy Lichlyter placed second in public speaking.

Rick Royalty and Tracy Lichlyter received plaques for proficiency awards in Diversified Livestock Production and Swine Proficiency.

Two members received the high honor of Hoosier Farmer during the year. This honor was awarded to John Wehrkamp and Rick Royalty. During the year the FFA took a trip to King's Island for fun.

VOICES — LOUD AND CLEAR

The voice of the students can be heard through the vehicle of the Student Council. Directing the council this year were: President Marty Perry, Vice-President Cris Suarez, Secretary Julie Gray, and Treasurer Keith Hutton. Mr. Mike Havey was the sponsor.

Activities for the 1979-1980 council included the first annual olympics, a competition between class won by the seniors, the annual Toys for the Tots dance and party, the conducting of class officers and student council elections, and the pre-basketball season Spirit Week.

The junior high student council, led by President Todd Bruther, sponsored many interesting days, including the annual Hat Day and 50's Day. In the spring despite a sudden rain storm Field Day was held. Under the able leadership of sponsor Mr. Tom Patterson, at Christmas time the council decorated the junior high.

THE SPLATTER OF PAINT

The Art Club had a great year. They sold big tissue flowers at the beginning of the year. The students sold tickets for the basketball game between the faculty and the WAKY Wackers. At Christmas time the club went to Mr. Robertson's house for a party.

During the second semester, the club raffled off a hand-painted chair made by the Art Club students for some lucky winner. In the annual FHA/Art Club Talent Show the club used some of the art classes' projects to add more color. Mr. Gene Robertson and Mrs. Sarah Green of FHA made the Talent Show a great success with their kind supportiveness.

The Art Club also had a booth at the SW High School Spring Fling. There they painted tattoos on the students' faces, hands, and arms. In April the group went to an Art Museum in Cincinnati, along with going to a plant conservatory. After eating at McDonalds, they went on to King's Island for an evening of fun. This active club had a great year.

ESPAÑOL, LA LENGUA PARA MI !

Spanish Club has been busy working on making this year one of the best the Spanish Club has ever had. The members started off with a booth at the Madison Chautauqua where they sold pinatas and baked goods. After raising some money for their club, they held an initiation of all new members.

December was a good month for the group. A dance was held after one of the varsity basketball games. They had a DJ from WORX radio and all the alumnos boogieing.

In March each member received his Spanish Club t-shirt designed by Sharick Wade. The club went to a Mexican restaurant in Louisville called Por que No. They also had a booth in the SW School Spring Fair.

This year Miss Holly Deen was the Spanish Club advisor; Mrs. Shirley Kleopfer spent the year studying at Indiana University. Officers for the 1979-80 year were as follows: President, Cris Suarez; Vice President, Stephanie Bowman; Secretary, Debbie Bitner; Treasurer, Dawn Ligon; Program Chairman, Elaine Law; and Social Chairman, Penny Reardon.

To close the year nicely the group members enjoyed a picnic. There they gave Miss Deen a farewell because Mrs. Kleopfer will return in September.

SCIENTISTS ALIVE

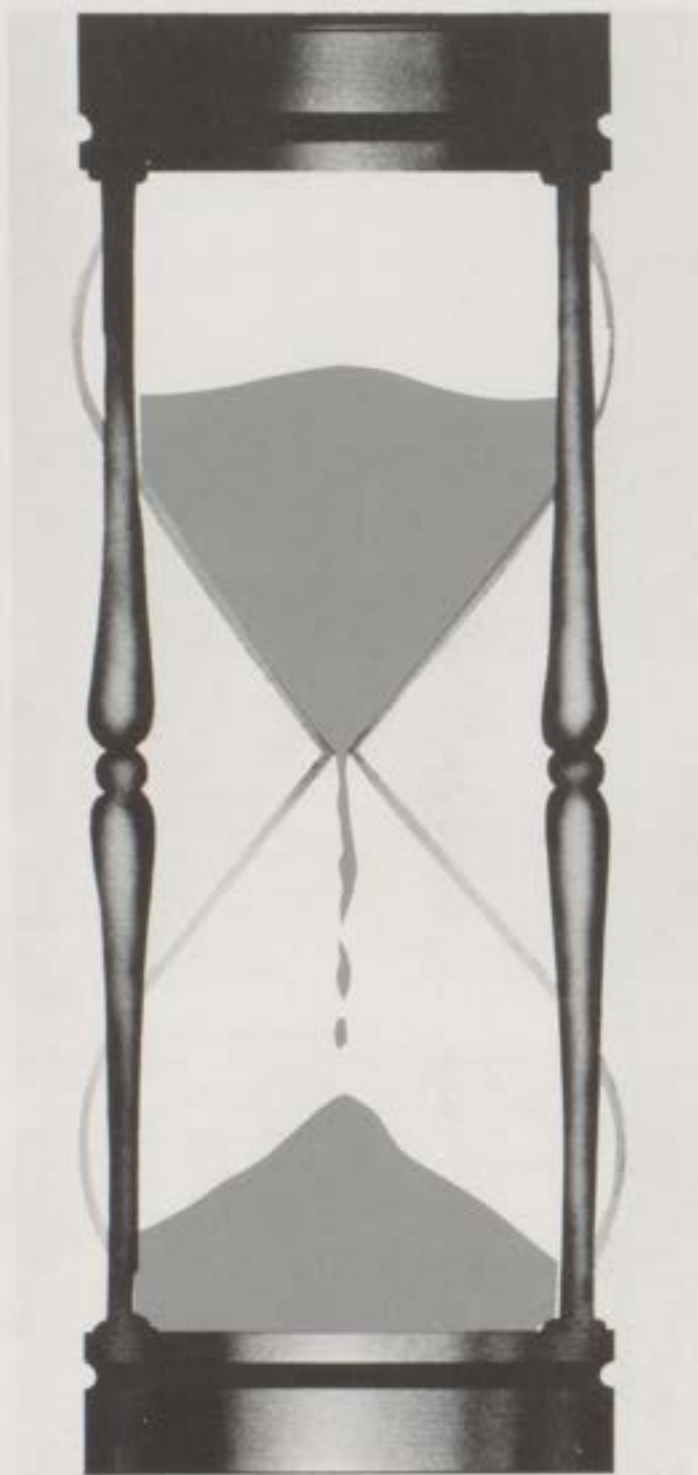

The SW Junior High students were especially enthusiastic toward the field of science. The thirty members of Science Club performed scientific and community service projects. Each member, under the guidance of Mr. Jim Singer, submitted a project to the Science Fair in February. A scale model of a wood stove by Penny Skorich received first place honors with second place going to Jimmy Terrell for his entry of a food hydrater. Donny Wyatt's electric motor finished third, while Priscilla Norris and Becky Warf's scale model of the human heart earned them a fourth place finish. The club also had a bake sale in November, rang bells for the Salvation Army during the Christmas season, and concluded the year with a trip to King's Island.

CLASSES

A new year brought changes to the yearbook class because it was moved into the Publication Wing in the junior high school.

Producing a yearbook takes many time consuming hours designing the pages, taking the pictures, and writing the copy for the pages. This year's staff made all their deadlines following the direction of Advisor, Mrs. Morrill; Editor, Creg Adkins, and Assistant Editor, Debby Jackson. For the first time in many years a majority of the pictures in the Rebian have been taken by student photographers, Troy Stoner, Photography Editor, Matt Morrill and Jeff Bruther. The Rebian staff also relied on Parker Photography to take all the pictures of the groups at Southwestern so they could be represented in the yearbook. The Copy Editor was Karen Wagner who edited all the copy written by the staff members. The financial end of the yearbook was handled by the Business Manager, Leanna Tolle. Staff members sold patron and professional ads, as well as advertisements to the businesses of the Jefferson County area in order to raise over $7,000 to finance the Rebian. In addition, the Rebian had its second annual Valentine's Day Dance with Phil Winning, the Josten/American Yearbook Representative, as the disc-jockey. He gave away records to the people whose names were drawn from all the high school and junior high school students. The dance was a success.

Rebian staff members found time away from their hectic schedule to have a surprise birthday party for their editor with the help of Mr. and Mrs. Mount who supplied the cake.

The staff members put in a lot of time and effort to make this yearbook a fine representation of the 1979-80 academic year.

EXTRA! EXTRA! READ ALL ABOUT IT!

The CONFEDERATE staff worked very hard to produce many fine newspaper issues following the leadership of advisor, Mrs. Marcia Morrill and Co-Editors, Cris Suarez and Sonya Rosenthal. On November 9, 1980, the newspaper staff members went to Press Day at Indiana University Southeast where they learned many new things in the world of communication. Financing a newspaper calls for many money-making projects besides the profits from selling the newspaper. Staff members sold Heath and Super Crunch bars earlier in the year and sold carnations for Valentine's Day. They were responsible for selling ads to the businesses of the area and for the Book Nook at the school fair. With the hard work of the staff members the students were informed about the school activities.

The Sizzler Staff also worked very hard to inform the junior high school student body with help from advisor Mrs. Susie Brown and the Editorial Board made up of seventh and eighth grade students. Members of the Editorial Board were Penny Abbott, Michelle Smith, Jeanna Gray, Kevin Harvey, Austin Worchester, George Henry, Amanda Bradley, Jeff Johnson, Tim Ison, and Scott Caudill. The Sizzler printed nine issues, including a four page April Fool's issue, on the new Xerox machine at the high school.

Besides printing the Sizzler, the junior high school produced their yearly Literary Magazine following the directions from advisor Mrs. Virgie Dowell and the Editorial Board consisting of Teri Barnes, Jennifer Trout, Angie Sloan, and Beth Whittaker. All articles submitted to the Editorial Staff were judged on their originality and content before being selected to be published in the magazine. This magazine let the entire junior high school know the writing ability of their fellow students.

The Darkroom Staff developed all the pictures used in the newspaper as well as, participated in the state Media Fair competition. Jeff Bruther and Matt Morrill both received blue ribbons at the district contest for their picture essays. All members who went to the Media Fair bought back ribbons for their efforts. The staff also named Mr. Charles Tackett an honorary member because they always went through his room to get to the darkroom. Without the staff's help the newspaper would not have had any pictures.

SHAKESPEARE, NOUNS, AND VERBS

The literature courses opened a variety of fields of reading to many students. Poetry, The Old Man and the Sea, King Lear, Flowers for Algernon, and The Picture of Dorian Gray were among those read in the different grade levels. Reading was coordinated with projects, plays, discussions, and films. In senior literature, under student teacher Miss Pam Alvis, the students performed parts of "Much Ado About Nothing", "Taming of the Shrew", and "A Midsummer Night's Dream". Mrs. Karen Klein's literature class wrote, directed and performed their own play. Now that is ambition!

When it comes to English, one thinks of organizing paragraphs and diagramming sentences. However, the senior composition students expanded the traditional guidelines. The highlight of the year, according to the students, was the writing of short stories. First, stories for children were written and read to elementary school classes; illustrations were included. Then, they wrote adult short stories which were insightful as well as creative. Who knows, some day we may see one of their names in print.

VOCA AND THE WORLD OF WORK

This year vocational school played a big part in the lives of many SW juniors and seniors. Fifty-four students rode two buses to Versailles to learn about the world of work. Vocational school had a wide variety of classes that ranged from cosmetology to auto mechanics. After a couple of years of studying, the students are ready to find jobs that specialize in their specific training area.

On Honor's Day Mr. King recognized Danny Thompson as the Outstanding Vocational Student from our school for 1980.

FITEING FOR AGRICULTURE

The Southwestern agriculture classes had a new teacher for the 1979-80 school year. Glen Fite came to Southwestern after Mr. Milliken left. Mr. Fite upgraded the whole agriculture department. He began a new four year program starting with the basics of agricultural sciences to the process of managing a farm. The ag classes worked on shop projects for nine weeks. Many students built things for their farms, such as hog crates for farrowing hogs. Many other projects were done ranging from overhauling engines to refinishing furniture.

The agriculture department lost one of its finest students when John Wehrkamp, Chapter FFA President, was killed in an accident on his farm on January 19, 1980. He will be sorely missed by all students at Southwestern.

On Arbor Day the Ag III and IV class planted a tree to commemorate the day.

MARCHING FORWARD

The band under the direction of Sara Springstun, President Randy Maricle, Vice-President Bob Matthews, Secretary Karen Wagner, and Treasurer Jami Davis reached new heights. The year started with the marching season. The band members participated in the Canaan Fall Festival, Versailles Pumpkin Festival, Fireman's Ball, Jeffersonville Steamboat Days, Madison Regatta, and Madison Christmas parades. The Steamboat Days parade was a competitive event among all which entered. The Southwestern High School Marching Rebels received second place. However, the highlight of the season was the floor show on November 11, 1979. The drum and bugle corp style routine was the first presented by the ensemble. The band performed Battle Hymn of the Republic, Doodles, a percussion feature, and Espana. It was successful and a repeat performance was demanded for the SW-Madison Thanksgiving Eve basketball game.

With the marching program receiving enthusiastic attention, the Band Boosters decided that the time had come for the new band uniforms. A fund drive was launched and soon money was contributed from many sources. The biggest help came from the Southwestern

School Board with a pledge for $5000. The ten thousand dollar goal was met and new uniforms were ordered.

Marching, however, was not the band's only activity. They also had a successful concert season. Three performances were given, one in the winter, and two in the spring. The Christmas concert featured Lethbridge Overture and a difficult contemporary piece by Nehlybel entitled Festivo as part of the program. In April the band went to contest and received a high second place rating. They played Landmark Overture, Burnished Brass, and Coventry for the judges. The spring concert added two pieces, Gospel John and a medley of tunes from A Chorus Line, to the three contest numbers. Bob Matthews and Matt Morrill were the trumpet soloists in Coventry. In the final performance the band played the processional and recessional for high school commencement.

The junior high band also participated in the spring concert. They performed a jazzy piece entitled Galaxy Rock and Yankee Doodle Goes Abroad. The latter consisted of "Yankee Doodle" being played in the folk style of the different countries. Mr. James White was the narrator.

THE GOOD 'OLE DAYS

Who says history is unimportant? Without history, Miss Marsha Jackson and Mr. Mike Havey would not have had those wonderful skits! History has even become popular enough in the junior high to have their own history club. The history club under the direction of Mr. Jim White, went to Shakertown and to Harrodsburg with Mr. Havey's Civil War history class. Jennifer King and Stephanie Bowman were selected for the Lugar Symposium. That was a great honor for Jennifer and Stephanie. Karen Chambers and Ronda Webb met qualifications to become Rotary Exchange Students. Karen will be going to the Phillipines and Ronda will be going to Mexico.

There was a new face in the history department in the junior high. Mrs. Susan Brown has taken over for Sharon Thompson, who has moved to Colorado. Two SW students were winners at Hanover College during History Day. First and second places went to Laura Cook and Tammy Brown. They entered papers in the junior division. Both girls went to state on May 3, in Bloomington, Indiana.

THE WORLD OF LANGUAGE

Some of us have not yet mastered the English language while others are beginning or perfecting another language.

In Latin this past year the beginners learned basic grammar, vocabulary words, and how to translate. Latin class also had a "Toga" party to honor the senior members.

In French the students studied the language and began speaking and understanding simple French statements. The students enjoyed sampling beignets — French doughnuts — which they made in the class. The beginners learned basic, simple words.

Spanish II moved on to the more complex sentences, learning to put the verb before the noun and the correct endings for the feminine and masculine nouns and verbs. The Spanish I class had two guests, one who was from Colombia and one who was a Madison exchange student from Mexico.

When it came to dissecting frogs, performing experiments, watching movies, dreading chemistry "picnics", and learning about electricity, one can bet that Southwestern students were at their peak. With the help of Mrs. Maria Coghill, Mr. Bill Finnegan, Mr. Charles Tackett, Mr. Jim Singer, and Mr. Tom Patterson the students learned of the wonders of science.

ROBERTSON'S WORLD OF ART

Art class was colorful and creative this year. Students did several three dimensional projects. The students painted pictures of an abstract horse. Some were entered in the art contest in Madison. The Christmas bulletin board projects were a challenge to the groups that worked on them. They came up with a variety of Christmas scenes. The students drew portraits of their classmates posing in many different ways.

In the spring Peter Ellis won first place in the Madison Women's Art Contest for his picture of balloons. The second year art students did wood carvings and made ink block prints. The students got to go outside and drew sketches of the school and cars and sometimes trees. They were really glued up when the classes worked on their paper mache projects of people and animals. Gerri Tackett made a giant cat that looked very life-like. Their last major project was to do a scene from history or a literary poem or story and paint it. Many students thought there were not enough history events and had a hard time thinking of one. Most projects were very interesting.

THE WORLD OF BUSINESS

With all the office procedures learned by SW students, it is not surprising that our graduates have no trouble in placing themselves in a job. We are proud of the reputation we have gained in the area.

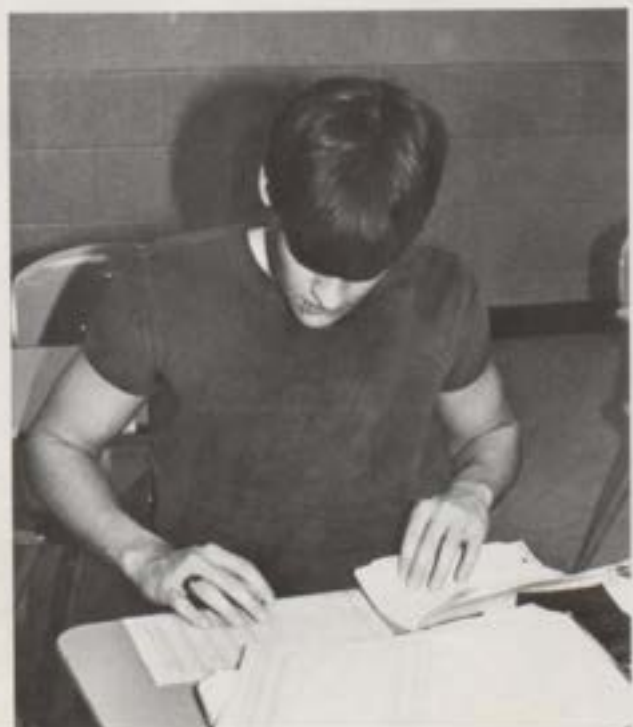

Mrs. Dorothy Duke's Clerical class and Typing I class had several assignments that were due daily. In Typing II, Mr. Jake Kloefer drilled his students on the finer points of letter style and activities designed to increase speed.

Shorthand is another class that is often needed for business preparation. It is taught by Mrs. Linda Caudill and is growing on size. They learned about 1,500 words the first semester, while in the second semester, they increased their dictation, speed, improved English vocabulary, and developed basic skills. Because there is such demand for the clerical worker in our outside world, the business courses at Southwestern have increased in attendance and in quality.

DUKE, INC.

This year at Southwestern, Clerical Practice, a new class, was added to the business field. Mrs. Dorothy Duke, the teacher of the new course, divided the class into several parts by offering many skills in the clerical profession. Some skills that were taught in this course were duplication, typing, dictaphone, machines, and filing. Each student in the class spent a certain time on each skill until the requirements were met. One large responsibility that the pupils were in charge of was preparing copying and typing work for all the SW faculty members. Not only did the students help the teachers, but they also worked in the high school. There they ran errands, copied materials, and answered the telephone.

Mrs. Duke planned many field trips throughout the year. On one trip they visited the IBM offices in Louisville, Kentucky. The students were given the opportunity to actually work the equipment. One machine could produce a fully typed page letter and sent it out in the mail in fourteen seconds. Throughout the year several speakers came and visited with members of the class.

Students were asked how they benefitted from taking this new course at Southwestern and if they enjoyed the class. The reply was very positive. Many students asked for a second year of the class. Administrative members are talking of starting a Clerical Practice II next year, so cross your fingers!

PERFECT HARMONY

The high school and junior high chorus classes have achieved a lot under the instruction of Ms. Elizabeth Carruba. They presented three programs last year. The first was in the fall, and it was entitled "These Past Few Years". The title song was written by Elizabeth Carruba and the high school chorus class. The second program was the Christmas concert, "Songs of the Seasons". The spring concert was the third and final program.

The choruses have been in two types of contests. They performed in a solo-ensemble contest and did well. Randy Weidman received a superior rating in Division I for his tenor solo from the musical, "West Side Story". They also participated in a girls' chorus competition. It was the first time in eight years that a chorus class from Southwestern High School has performed in a contest of any type.

The choruses also had two types of fund raising projects during the year. They sold sing-a-thons at Valentine's Day, and they sold popcorn. Theresa McCane was the top salesperson. The money went for the funding of new music.

DOMESTIC ENGINEERS ARE HERE TO STAY

The junior and senior high school home economics classes have been busy cooking and sewing. The extra food was distributed to the teachers, and many students received compliments on their cooking. The high school home economics class had a real treat! They went to the Briarpatch for a lesson in manners and proper etiquette.

Foods/Child Development class spent the first semester learning how to cook all varieties of foods. The second semester they visited the maternity ward at King's Daughter's Hospital in Madison. Some of SW students brought in children for the class to study and observe.

The sewing classes started out with their patchwork pillows and ended with work on individual products.

Family Living, a co-ed class, offered a variety of learning experiences. The students found out about their personalities by relationships set up in the classroom. But the favorite of the students was the food lab and getting to sample their "gourmet" treats.

SHOP

In this year's industrial arts classes in both junior and senior high many projects were finished by the students. In high school students made tables, beds, mirrors, and some refinished furniture. The junior high students made tool boxes, key holds, and learned drafting.

In past years many tools have been purchased by the industrial art class as is evidenced by the picture on this page.

BRIGHTEN UP YOUR BODIES

Physical activity is essential for healthy bodies. Southwestern students have the opportunity to perfect their skills in such sports as basketball, track, soccer, tennis, badminton, and volleyball. Each student spends several weeks in swimming class. During the year several student teachers aided the regular instructors.

It is necessary for students to understand the reasons for keeping healthy bodies. These methods are taught in Miss Cynthia Smoots' and Mr. Steve Bright's health classes.

Math classes for the year 1979-80 were typically the same.

In the high school section Mr. Joe Barnett and Mrs. Barbara Ellefsen prepared students for geometry and trig. The Algebra I and II classes learned the basics of algebra and more advanced computations.

Geometry classes learned about circles, squares, triangles, and pentagons. According to Mr. Finnegan, pi square (r^2), but popular consensus among the students was that pie are round. Cornbread are square.

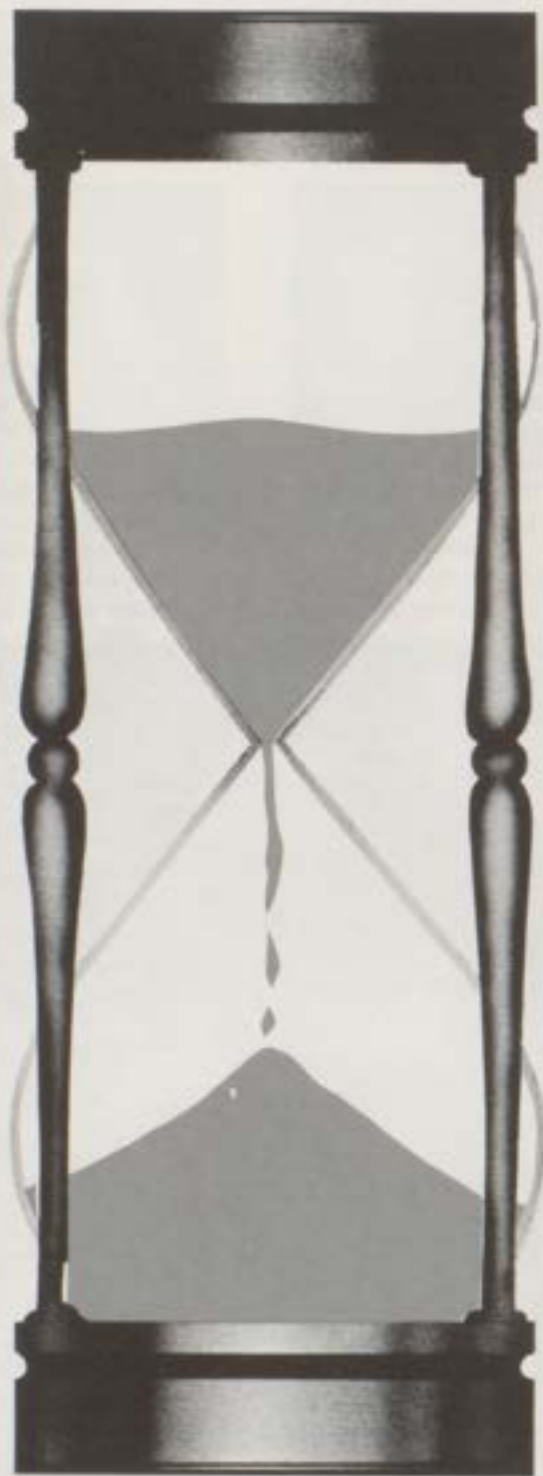

Trig and physics classes were prepped for the oncoming onslaught of college courses.

In junior high Mr. Ray Duke, Miss Barbara Fisher, and Mrs. Sheila Gault prepared students for their upcoming high school days at Southwestern.

ACTIVITIES

JUNIORS MOST SPIRITED

The 1979-1980 Spirit Week champion was the junior class. They did an exceptional job with their theme of Perrywood. The complete involvement exhibited by many members of the class was a major reason for the victory.

The juniors captured firsts in the hall, yell, and skit with help of Sha-Na-Noo. They also tied for second in the badges.

For the first time in several years Spirit Week attained its purpose of creating spirit for the entire school instead of dividing and creating hatred between the classes. Each of the classes worked together smoothly and respected the other classes.

Spirit Week 1979 proved to be a success because of the unity of the classes and the spirit they generated for the Southwestern Rebels.

The freshman chose Rebel County Fair as their theme. They did an outstanding job and showed great potential as future Spirit Week competitors. They won flag, tied for second in badges, and placed second in hall decorations. They finished second overall.

Rebel Renegade was chosen by the sophomores as their theme. They put forth a lot of effort and spent much time working on their theme. A first place was won by the sophomores in the badges, and a second was received for their yell. Scott Bair, running the obstacle course for his class, came in second.

The class of 1980 made a fine showing with their theme, Rebel Disco! The seniors placed first in the obstacle course with Dale Watson as their competitor. They received seconds in the flag and skit.

"STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN"

The theme for this year's prom, "Stairway to Heaven", was just that, a stairway to heaven. The decorations were enchanting and as the night wore on, they seemed to come alive.

To make the evening more exciting, there was the choosing of both prince and princess and king and queen. There was an array of candidates for the royal positions. Mike Adams, Tim Brawner, Keith Hutton, Randy Maricle, and Larry Sedam were the prom King candidates. They were complimented by Debbie Bitner, Julie Gray, Penny Reardon, Robin Rosenbury, and Donna Smith, the queen nominees. The junior class selected Donnie Adams, Creg Adkins, Bill Hensler, Robb Lanham, and Troy Stoner. Karen Chambers, Teresa Hendrickson, Laura Howard, Cindy Webster, and Angie Wyne accepted their counter parts. Along came eleven o'clock; the royalty was announced. Larry Sedam won the position as King and Donna Smith received Queen. Bill Hensler and Karen Chambers reigned as Prince and Princess.

In the end the hard work, magazine sales, and concession stand working produced an evening of enjoyment for all who participated.

THE "ROSE" OF SOUTHWESTERN

December 14 was a night to remember for all of Southwestern. Robin Rosenbury, who was escorted by Randy Miracle, was crowned Homecoming Queen for 1979-1980. She reigned over the Providence game with her court of two princesses and four candidates.

The freshman princess was Susan Sage and her escort was Greg Wyne. The sophomore princess, Kelly Douglas, was escorted by Rocky King. The two princesses added the perfect touch to the occasion.

Junior candidates were Cindy Webster and Karen Chambers, and the senior candidates were Stanra King and Rhonda Means. Their escorts included Mike Anthony, Mike Dean, Terry Taylor and Peter Ellefsen.

Carol Turner, 1978-79 Homecoming Queen, escorted by senior Mike Finnegan, finished the evening's ceremony by crowning Queen Robin. All together the evening was a beautiful and rewarding experience for all.

IN THE MOOD FOR DANCING

The favorite subject of many Southwestern students was dancing, they were indeed "in the mood" at all the successful dances sponsored throughout the year by different groups and organizations of the school.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

Along with all the other fun times of school were the assemblies. The year was filled with guitarists, bands, and other talented people who came to perform for the students of Southwestern. Like most of the other numerous events, the students left the programs with a smile.

SHOW US YOUR TALENT

This year's Talent Show had a variety of different acts along with a few minor technical difficulties. But the show went on with Joe Orr as host and Cindy Webster as the hostess. Mike Adams introduced each act of the show, portraying the role of a card girl. A variety of dances were performed by Wanda Hayes, Paula Wilson, Jama Bibb and Debbie Humphrey, and Angie Hawk, Julie Gray, and Donna Smith. Other acts included vocals and guitarists, who were Tina Hilleary, Vora Leland, Shari Chatham, Bob Marsh and Mike Hess, and Rick Rosenbury. Rounding out the show was the band, Raven, with Bill Abbott, Rick Bird, Darrell Mack, and Tim Kelly, and the Village Fools played by Keith Hutton, Horace Lewis, Randy Maricle, and Larry Sedam. Commercial breaks were provided by Jeff Bruther, Karen Chambers, Troy Todd, and Tracey Wynel. First place winner was Raven, second was Paula Wilson, and there was a two-way tie for third between Women and Village Fools.

SPORTS

SERVING UP A WINNER

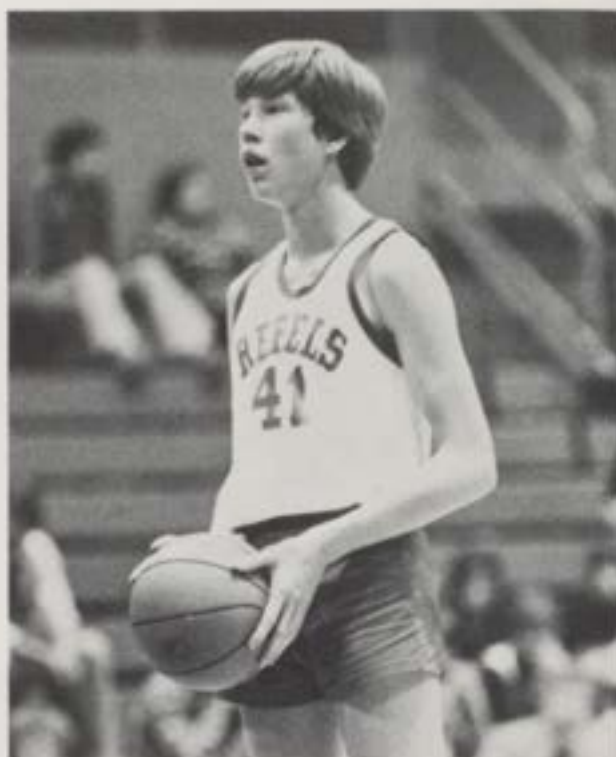

The 1979-1980 Southwestern Junior Varsity Basketball Team had a very successful season. Under the able leadership of the new coach, Don "Beaver" Server, the Rebels compiled an 11-8 record.

The junior Rebels won their holiday tournament at Hauser on an last second shot by Troy Todd. The JV squad won the Ohio River Valley Conference with a record of 5-0.

The JV was led by Ron Webb and Donnie Adams. Webb captured the most rebounds and scored the most points while Adams led in the assist column. Adams received the "Hustle" award for his constant hustle and leadership. Robb Lanham and John Neher also saw action for the JV team as well as for the varsity.

Greg Wyne was moved up from the freshmen team and earned a starting role on the JV. Other members of the freshmen team to be moved up were Dennis Stockdale and David Stucker.

The junior varsity squad worked long and hard this season and their winning record showed that. The outlook for next year has great possibilities and promises to be as good as this year.

FROSH HAS FIRST WINNING SEASON

Over the three years of the freshmen playing as a team, this was the first year for a winning season. The "A" and "B" teams, led by Coach Pat Williams, combined for a record of 12-6.

The "A" team fought off the team favorite, Rising Sun, in the ORVC Freshmen Basketball Tourney to achieve a spot in the Conference finals; however, in the championship game they fell to a strong Jac Cen Del team. The "A" team throughout the fourteen game stretch was led by Greg Wyne who scored 163 points for an average of 11.6 points per game. Dennis Stockdale was next with 114 points and an average of 8.14 points per game.

The "B" team, with only four games in the season, earned a .500 percent record and was led by Jeff Wehrkamp who tallied 33 points for an average of 8.25 points a game. Mark Tolliver was next with 16 points; he accounted for four points per game.

Kevin Means earned the "Hustle" award. The freshmen should be very strong contenders on the junior varsity next season.

Seven seniors + five juniors + lots of practice = SUCCESS. Take these ingredients, mix well, and one has the Southwestern High School varsity basketball team. The Rebel team members combined to form a record of 16-6 while winning the Ohio River Valley Conference crown and taking home the nets from the Jefferson County Invitational Tourney.

The nucleus of the team came from the seven seniors with great bench strength from each of the five juniors. Senior guard Marty Perry was the Rebel who led in assists and in free throw percentage. Perry, voted Most Valuable Player in the ORVC, was awarded the co-captain's award, too. Larry Sedam, who led the Rebels with the inside game throughout the year, came away with the rebound award to accompany his co-captain's award. Keith Hutton was awarded the field goal trophy while Horace Lewis was voted the best defensive player of the season by his teammates. Tim Brawner captured the scholastic award. Larry Kirkendoll and Mike Adams, selected for the all area team, were very influential for the Rebel machine again this year as were juniors Bill Hensler, Mitch Imel, Robb Lanham, Dewayne Liler, and John Neher, who was chosen the most improved varsity player.

The 1979-1980 Rebels fought hard all year, in practice and in the games, to become the best team possible despite an eye injury to Kirkendoll and a knee injury to Perry. With hard work and dedication they accomplished many of the goals set before the season began. Next year should prove to be just as exciting with the five juniors returning to combine with the fine junior varsity players.

VARSITY WINS WITH WILL POWER

The girls' varsity basketball team deserves a big hand for coming in fourth in the conference. For having such a successful season, Coach Pat Williams received the conference Co-Coach-of-the-Year Award. Teresa Melgard was the only senior on the team. She received top honors at the basketball banquet. During the season Kim Sedam broke her arm and was lost to the team; Linda Yount replaced her and did a remarkable job. The team won one game in the sectional against New Washington and lost to Madison in the semi-final game. This made their record 6-10. With their aggressiveness and their ability to play ball, the team should be even better next year.

DEEN'S MACHINE

This year the girls' junior varsity basketball team made history at SWHS. They won the junior varsity conference championship, the first girls' team in the history of SWHS to win such a honor. The record was 6-2, and Joyce Hertz won the only trophy given the JV, the Hustle Award. Three girls received their numerals; six girls were given certificates. The girls enjoyed having Miss Deen as their coach. They seldom understood her when she tried to explain a play, but thought she was fun to have as a coach. They wish she could be back next year, and she will be missed. Many of the girls should progress to varsity players.

THE HONORED

Lower right: ORVC Coaches-of-the-Year Glen Fite and Don Server show off their trophies after the banquet honoring fall athletes. Fite led his golf team to the conference championship, and Server took the first SW Cross Country in the history of the school to the Semi-State Meet.

Each school year many students represented our school in several athletic events. 1979-1980 was no different. The following is a list of awards presented to outstanding athletes at Southwestern.

The ORVC Conference All-Sports Trophy was returned to Southwestern as a result of a very successful boys' athletic season. The trophy was awarded to the Rebels because of the following success:

Golf — first place

Cross Country — second place

Basketball — first place

Track — third place

Baseball — fourth place

Final conference standings for the All-Sports Trophy were:

South Ripley — 48½

Switzerland County — 43½ Rising Sun — 39½ Shawe — 29

Jac-Cen-Del — 16½

Donnie Adams — Hustle (JV Basketball), Scholastic (Cross Country)

Mike Adams — Captain (Baseball)

Tim Brawner — Scholastic (Baseball, Basketball)

James Clark — Hustle (Cross Country, Track) Captain (Cross Country)

Jeff Curry — Batting Average (Baseball)

Cindy Webster — Co-Captain (Volleyball)

Greg Wyne — Hustle (JV Cross Country)

SPORTS' SPECIALISTS SUPPORT REBEL TEAMS

Where would sports be without the assistance of the various managers, trainers, statisticians, and other athletic helpers? The 1979-1980 sports' aids' staff was a group of eight young men and women who worked very hard for the athletic department.

The sports' year began with Girls' Volleyball; junior Lisa Cook began managing and Suzie Gassert took up training for rookie Coach Ruth Warner. The volleyball team ran smoothly, and both girls were to be highly commended.

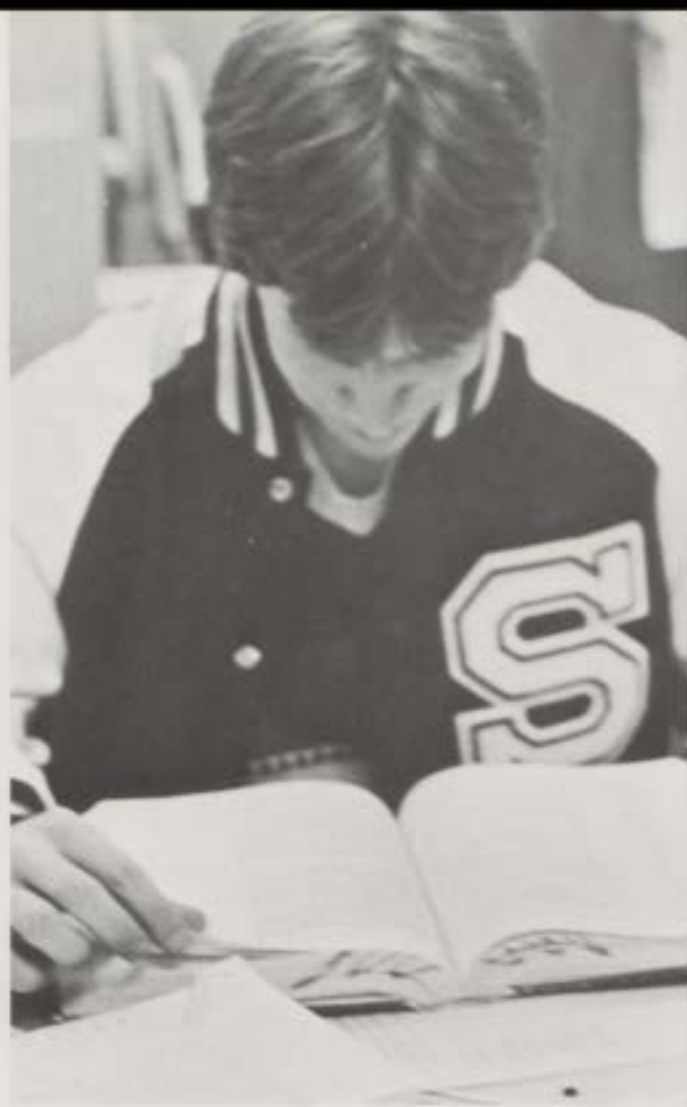

As the seasons changed from fall to winter, the staff of manager and trainer also changed. Basketball season brought back some seasoned veterans and some new faces to our aids' staff. Senior manager Kent Hutton returned for his third varsity season; senior Mike Finnegan joined Kent as varsity trainer for his third year also. Both Kent and Mike served as instructors to the younger, inexperienced staff members who would take their places in the coming years. Sophomores Bill Varble and Gary Rice worked for Coach Don Server throughout the season and will hopefully be back next season. Dennis Stackdale, Mark Tolliver, and Greg Wyne kept stats for the varsity teams.

Coach Pat Williams, who coached both the girls' basketball and freshmen boys' basketball teams had an enormous amount of help from freshmen basketball manager Rick Rosenbury and girls' manager Lori Dickey.

Yet once again the sports' seasons changed and also the aids' staff. Boys' track was aided by junior Gene Cloyd and freshman Carlos Suarez. Girls' track got a great break from statisticians juniors Marlena Imel and Kendra Cutshall.

Working the video equipment this year were Earl Roberts and George Orr.

Although we do not always realize how much work these people do, the athletic department would be in serious trouble without them.

CINDERMEN ARE ON THE RIGHT TRACK

This year's track, under the leadership of first year Coach Pat Williams, finished a close third in the conference with fourteen runners gaining their letters. The team's Captain Award went to Horace Lewis; Larry Sedam latched onto the Most Improved Award. James Clark was named for the Hustle Award.

Three members of the 1980 track team managed to surpass the Sectional ranks into the Regional. James Clark qualified by placing second in the 3,200 meter run. Horace Lewis slipped in by placing fourth in the 100 meter run. Larry Sedam placed an astonishing first place in the shot to gain a berth in the Regional.

DEVOTED RUNNERS

This year the girls' varsity track team showed determination and drive, qualities that make good runners. They had the endurance and will power to go running in the parking lot and on the roads because of the absence of a track at SW. But this did not effect the girls' running. Many records were broken, they were:

100 meters	13.4	Laura Howard
200 meters	28.9	Julie Adams
1,600 meters	6:30.6	Rene Madison
100 meters hurdles	18.6	Elaine Law
400 meter relay	55.2	Mary Hertz, Debbie Stockdale, Laura Howard, and Teresa Johnson
800 meter relay	1:58.1	Molly Totten, Julie Adams, Joyce Hertz, and Tammy Shelton
800 meter medley	2:08.0	Laura Howard, Debbie Stockdale, Gerrie Tackett, and Mary Hertz
Long jump	13'10 $\frac{1}{2}$ "	Elaine Law
Discus	74'9"	Denise Wyatt

This year's awards went to Tammy Shelton for Hustle, Laura Howard received Most Improved, Teresa Johnson received the Captain's Award, and Cris Suarez received the Scholastic Award. There were seven girls who lettered and fifteen who received certificates. With new coach Ruth Warner, the girls came in fourth in the conference.

FORE

The 1979 golf team, led by Coach Glen Fite, did a fantastic job. The team, using Sunrise as their home course, combined for a record of 15-3 with a total average of 175 strokes per meet.

The golfers were awarded trophies to compliment their accomplishments. The Most Improved Award went to Joe Orr, who bettered his game by five strokes over the season. Tony Griffith received the Attitude Award for his enthusiasm on and off the course. Marty Perry and Scott Horner captured the Scholastic Award. The Captain Award was also captured by Perry. Letters were given to Maricle, Horner, and Orr. Perry and Griffith were previous lettermen.

The Ohio River Valley Conference championship meet was played at Milan. The Southwestern golfers turned in a great team effort by defeating their opponents, thus, becoming the conference champs. Tony Griffith shot a 75 and was the low medalist for the meet. Joe Orr shot an 86. Both were placed on the All-Conference Team. Coach Glen Fite was named the ORVC Golf Coach of the Year.

C.C. TEAM RUNS TO SEMI-STATE

Runners to your mark . . . set . . . Bang!

This year's history makers, the cross country harriers, were the first team in the history of Southwestern High School to advance to the 1979 IHSAA Semi-State. At the helm was first year coach Don "Beaver" Server, who was named the ORVC "Co-Coach of the Year", and was quoted after the season, "We didn't get anyone in the State finals, but it was an honor just being at the Semi-State."

The 1979 Captain Award went to Senior James Clark. Clark also captured the Hustle Award. Senior Jeff "Birdman" Totten received the Most Improved Runner. Juniors Donnie Adams and Scott Horner used their heads to tie for the Scholarship Award. Freshman Greg Wyne, who won the junior varsity conference race, achieved the Hustle Award for the JV team. James Clark, Jeff Curry, Gary Hamilton, Matt Morrill, Donnie Adams, and Greg Wyne were all on the All-County Team. James Clark, Jeff Curry, and Gary Hamilton were also on the All-Conference Team. Clark made the All-Sectional and All-Regional teams.

The 1979 top varsity times were:

Senior James Clark	12:47	Sunrise Golf Course
Junior Gary Hamilton	13:22	Bryant Park — Bloomington
Sophomore Jeff Curry	13:25	Sunrise Golf Course
Freshman Matt Morrill	13:48	Sunrise Golf Course
Junior Donnie Adams	13:59	Shawe High School
Senior Jeff Totten	14:04	Bryant Park — Bloomington
Junior Scott Horner	14:14	Columbus East

The Rebels, after winning the county meet, racing second in the O.R.V.C., placing second in the Sectional, crossing the line fourth in the Regional, and pacing themselves to sixteenth place in the Semi-State, should be in great shape next year. The team will lose seniors James Clark and Jeff Totten. The "Running Rebels" should have an even stronger team next year with returning lettermen Donnie Adams, Jeff Curry, Gary Hamilton, Scott Horner, and Matt Morrill.

BUMP, SET, SPIKE

Under the new coaching this year, the girls' varsity and junior varsity volleyball team showed great aggressiveness. They worked hard in practice and the hard work showed up in the games they played. Although the teams were young, they displayed looks of being conference champs. Teresa Melgard was the only senior on the team. They also had an exchange student, Noriko Nakai. While Angie Wyne was most improved, Denise Wyatt got varsity hustle, Molly Totten received scholastic, and Teresa Hendrickson received junior varsity and captain awards. There were eight girls who received certificates, three received freshman numerals, five received letters, and there were four who were awarded jackets. The varsity record was 1-11, and the junior varsity record was 2-10, but with their strength and ability, they showed qualities of outstanding teams.

BATMEN ON THE MOVE

Led by three seniors, Coach Tom Patterson's varsity Rebel baseball team fought its way to the final game of the Seymour Sectional tourney before closing the 1980 season with a 10-12 record. In conference play the team was fourth, winning four and losing six. Larry Kirkendoll was Southwestern's representative on the ORVC All-Conference Team, and he also won the school's Pitching Award. Other award winners for this season were: Captain — Mike Adams, Hustle — Robb Lanham, Runs-Batted-In — Robb Lanham, Batting Average — Jeff Curry, and Scholarship — Tim Brawner.

Coach Don Server's junior varsity squad saw action in seven games, winning two and losing five.

We Are The Rebels

The cheerleading squads this year were the best ever. They not only promoted spirit at games, but they promoted spirit at pep rallies, Spirit Week, and before the games.

The squads worked very hard and also had fun. They made "cute" locker decorations for basketball as well as cross-country. They sold toboggans, buttons, and shirts. They also sponsored a cake raffle and a coat check at every home game. The profit made on all of the sales helped buy new uniforms for all three cheering squads. It took a lot of hard work, and under the leadership of Janet Rentsch, everything went as planned.

YELL LEADERS PROMOTE SPIRIT

The junior high cheerleaders have worked very hard this year to promote spirit throughout the school. They planned pep rallies that went off as a success, and they just had fun.

Under the leadership of Barbara Fisher, the cheerleaders produced a lot of new techniques. The eighth grade girls were very skilled acrobatics, and the seventh grade produced the most spirit and pep. The pep rallies that were planned were a great success. They also had a pizza raffle that went well. They sold raffle tickets for someone to win a pizza dinner with the cheerleader of her choice. Julie Monroe won, and she chose Michelle Mahoney. All in all it was a very successful year for the junior high cheerleaders.

REBEL ROUSERS!!!

The Pep Club this year has been a very well performed group. It consisted of approximately 66 members with a new section. This was the first year for junior high to be included in Pep Club. They did a very good job and were even considering starting a pep club of their own.

Senior Robin Rosenbury was the elected president. She organized the flower bulb sale and the selling of shirts and buttons. With the help of sponsor Janet Rentsch, the whole year was a success.

MARCHING ON!

Life on the Drill Team and Color Guard was not only marching during parades and performing at ballgames but was a lot of hard work and dedication. There were plenty of tired bones and sore muscles involved. The girls practiced twice a week during winter and up to five days on the week of a ballgame. In the summer the girls met twice a week with the band to practice for the parades.

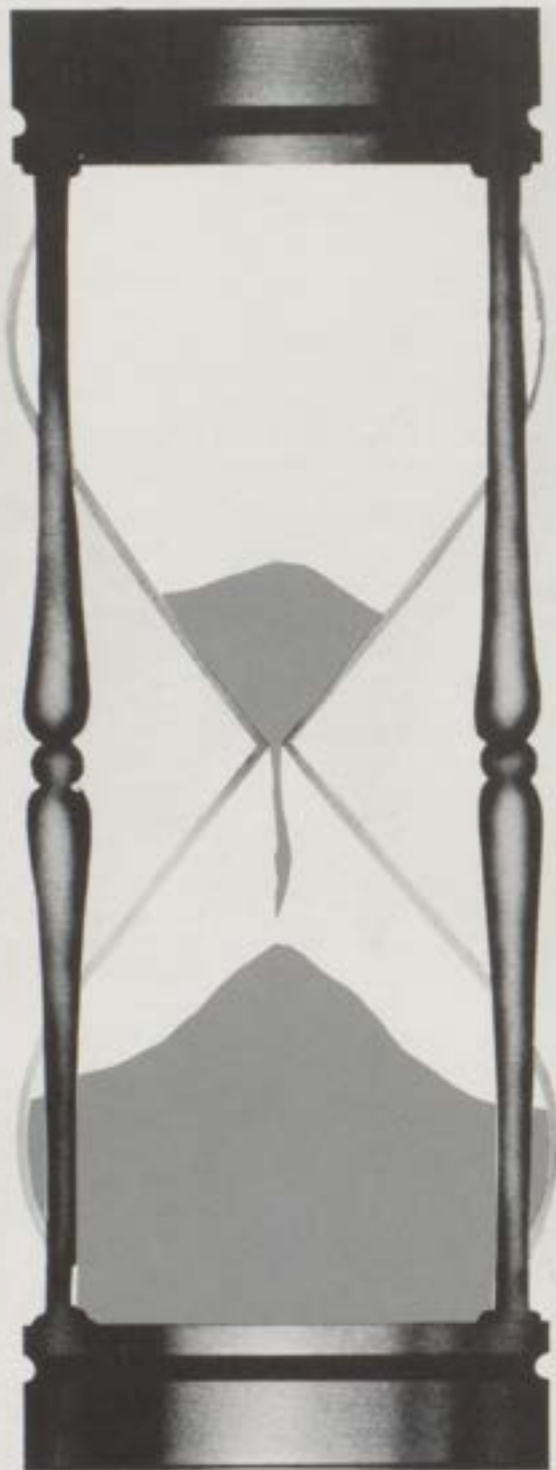

This year the girls wore new uniforms. The pompom girls had white silk shirts with blue sashes, red shorts, and red stripes on the shirts. The Color Guard and Rifle Corps wore white silk shirts with blue stripes, blue shorts, and red sashes. These new uniforms added a "Touch of Class" to the ballgames and parades.

The girls had bake sales and a rock-a-thon to raise money for new equipment. The rock-a-thon lasted for three days and two nights; twenty-one girls rocked. The money raised was used for new pompoms, flags and red hats were bought for the Color Guard and Rifle Corps.

Mrs. Springstun put together floor shows for the ballgames. The Color Guard and Rifle Corps joined the band and marched to "Battle Hymn," "España," and a drum break called "Doodles." The Drill Team did a routine to "Dr. Pepper." The floor shows were a real success, and they were performed a second time for the Madison home game.

MOORE'S VILLE

This has been a very active year for the junior high. This year's seventh and eighth grades have been two of the most active and enthusiastic classes ever to pass through Southwestern. Their behavior and participation were notably mature at the pep rallies and assemblies.

The activities of the junior high this year were numerous. Sports included cross country, basketball, wrestling, and track for boys and basketball, volleyball, and track for girls. Becky Warf, Lisa McCloud, Julie Rook, and Todd Bruther led the Science Club while Carter Cloyd, Tom Ellefsen, Vonetta Roberts, and John Schnebelt directed the History Club. Other activities included the Sizzler, the literary magazine, Project Think, and three dances.

This school year has proven very productive and successful for the junior high.

SEVEN AND EIGHT DO GREAT

In junior high basketball this year the seventh and eighth grades did great. Both seventh and eighth grades records were six wins and five losses. Leading the eighth grade team was Greg Stoner with 103 points; second was Carter Cloyd with 86 points. The leading rebounder for the team was Mark Lewis with 74 and Carter Cloyd with 60. Greg Stoner led in assists.

In seventh grade ball the leading scorers were Ron Mundt with 100 points and Danny Lee with 92. The leading rebounder was Danny Lee; the most assists were accomplished by Kevin Todd.

FIRST YEAR FOR REBELLETES

This was the first year for girls seventh and eighth grade basketball. It was very successful as in having many participants. They had three home games and three away. The opposing teams were North Vernon, Shawe, and Switzerland County. The team received new uniforms. Susan Abel was the outstanding player on both teams.

Intramural girls' volleyball was in its first season also. The girls worked very hard after school every day, under the leadership of Barbara Fisher. The season lasted approximately two months.

TODAY'S BEGINNERS, TOMORROW'S WINNERS

The junior high has never had any other sport other than basketball. So 1979-80 was the year for change. The junior high got a wrestling and a swimming team. Mr. Larry Moore, junior high principal, coached the newly formed wrestling team. Miss Ruth Warner, the swimming instructor, and Miss Barbara Dwyer, student teacher, coached the swim team.

The first year for the wrestling team was a challenging one which consisted of five meets and a tournament. There were seven eighth graders and eight seventh graders who participated throughout the season. Twelve high school boys wrestled on a voluntary basis for exhibition matches. Mr. Moore hopes to see the group grow and expand throughout the years.

The 1979-80 year was also the first year for the newly formed swim team. This year was mainly experimental on the team's part. Miss Warner and Miss Dwyer worked the team hard and hope the swim team will be recognized for their efforts. Miss Warner hopes to see the team grow.

FRESHMEN STEP OUT

The freshmen class has made great strides to become one of the best classes at Southwestern High School. Under the leadership of President, Matt Morrill, Vice President, Tracey Taylor, Secretary, Mike Gaines, Treasurer, Doris Lock, and Advisor, Mrs. Coghill they placed an amazing second in the Spirit Week competition with the theme "Rebel County Fair". They were also guided by freshmen Student Council members Don Brooks, Denise Cash, Jeff Bruther, Daren Scholl, and Mendy Hord. Dotty Surret, an elected freshmen representative to Student Council, was unable to complete her term because she moved.

The class of 1983 started their first year of high school with a bang. Many participated in school activities. Suzan Bair, Janet Buchheit, Mendy Hord, Laura Jackson, and Susan Sage were the freshmen and girls' basketball cheerleaders. Julie Adams was a junior varsity basketball cheerleader. This fall, Susan Sage, the freshmen Homecoming princess, was escorted by Greg Wyne. In March, Jeff Bruther and Matt Morrill won blue ribbons in the District #6 Indiana Media Fair. Kathy Wagner, flute, and Carlos Suarez, French horn, received honors at Solo and Ensemble while Valeri Bush and Linda Adams represented the school at the Chorus Solo and Ensemble.

The freshmen class was also an asset to the athletic teams. Matt Merrill was the only freshmen on the Cross Country Semi-State team. Kevin Means won the Hustle award for his assistance on the freshmen basketball team. The junior varsity was aided by David Stucker and Greg Wyne.

With accomplishments such as these to the credit of the freshmen class, it appears as if they will be a future stronghold at Southwestern.

TWO DOWN

One year in high school was all it took for the sophomores to get into the swing of things as far as being in high school. They participated in several activities during the school year. At the beginning of the year they were busy sponsoring a car wash at the Hanover fire station, planned by the hard working class officers: Bill Varble, Kellie Kuntz, Molly Totten, and Ron Webb. These officers worked with 140 students, one of the largest classes ever, and Mr. Bill Finnegan, sponsor. As the year began, the sophomores had a bright outlook on the sports' world. The cross country team got off to a running start, and with the help of Jeff Curry the team made it to the semi-state in Bloomington. Tony Griffith was named the most valuable golfer in the ORVC Conference and was also low medalist in the Conference meet. Molly Totten was an important part of the girls' athletics this year and received several trophies at the annual basketball banquet. Kelly Douglas was chosen sophomore princess for the homecoming court and was escorted by Rocky King.

In the academic area the sophomores were represented well. There were fourteen members of the class who were initiated into the National Honor Society. Rhonda Harrison represented our school at the Hugh O'Brien Leadership Conference in Indianapolis.

Kathy Kaas leads the spirited sophomores at a pep rally.

STEPPIN' UP

The junior class officers: Donnie Adams, president; Liz Gross, vice-president; Jennifer King, secretary; Dawn Ligon, treasurer; and Mr. David Mount, sponsor.

Led by their class officers, the junior class made great strides in the year 1979-80. Serving as class officers were Donnie Adams, president; Liz Gross, vice-president; Jennifer King, secretary; Dawn Ligon, treasurer; and Mr. Mount, sponsor.

The juniors were, with much hard work, the Spirit Week champs of 1979.

The annual magazine sales were also a tremendous success. The juniors broke all previous records with sales of over $9,000. After these two activities, much to the delight of the juniors, Mr. Mount was thrown into the swimming pool. The junior class also had many outstanding individuals. Jennifer King and Stephanie Bowman were picked as Lugar delegates. Bill Hensler and Donnie Adams were chosen for Boys' State. Peter Ellefsen, Kevin Barnes, Todd Richmond, and Scott Horner all received first place ratings at the state Media Fair. Troy Stoner was head photographer, and Creg Adkins was the editor for the Rebian.

Mr. Mount has announced that he will no longer be the class sponsor. The class of '81 would like to say "THANKS", Mr. Mount, for a job well done.

LEAVING WITH FLAIR

"Small but mighty" could be the motto of the class of 1980. With only ninety students in the class, the seniors had a chance to work more closely together to have a successful, enjoyable, final year. At mid-term 23 seniors were graduated to go out in the world and start their careers or to further educations.

A lot of hard work — selling popcorn, sour candy balls, and working in high school fair booths — was put forth by the busy seniors so they could enjoy one final fling in the sun for their senior trip. Daytona Beach and Disney World were taken over by 32 bus-weary students, Mr. King, and Mrs. Kershner in mid-April. There were five days of playing in the ocean, sunburn, street skates, wandering through the fantasies of the Magic Kingdom, and trying to sleep on the bus.

There are other glowing memories for the class of 1980. At last the class really pulled together for Spirit Week, with the theme "Rebel Disco" the main hall of the high school became a discotheque. The seniors' second place winning skit was filled with sparkle, song, and soft shoe. Dale Watson pulled in a first for the seniors in the obstacle course. The flag received a second place. In pre-sectional activities the seniors showed where their talents lay when they won the mattress competition.

The seniors had a rewarding year in both academics and athletics. Cris Suarez, valedictorian, and Mark Totten, salutatorian, led the twelve senior National Honor Society members in class rank. National honors were given to Robin Rosenbury, who was commended in the National Merit Competition. Sonya Rosenthal and Cris Suarez were named finalists in that same competition.

Athletic successes for Southwestern were led by the class of '80 also. James Clark and Jeff Totten helped take the cross country team to a semi-state standing. Many other seniors contributed to the achievement of first place in the ORVC for golf and basketball, as well as a JCIT victory and good seasons in both track and baseball. Marty Perry drew national attention when he was named to the McDonald's All-American Team. He received numerous other honors, including being a part of the All-State Team. As a sideline to the basketball season, Randy Maricle will long be remembered for his antics performed during the basketball games this seasons. The Homecoming Queen was senior Robin Rosenbury.

Robin was also chosen as Southwestern's DAR representative. Other seniors chosen for their interest and leadership in the area of government were Tim Brawner and Satoshi Hasegawa, who attended the Rotary sponsored World Affairs Institute Convention in Cincinnati. Donna Smith and Larry Sedam reigned over the 1980 Prom.

Not to be forgotten were the seniors who led the class as officers for the year. Those capable officers were President Teresa Melgard, Vice-President Robin Rosenbury, Secretary Sonya Rosenthal, and Treasurer Debbie Bitner. Always willing to lend a hand when asked was their advisor, Mrs. Carolyn Kershner.

Talent was displayed by several seniors in the annual FHA-Art Club Talent Show in 1980. Two groups of seniors, the Village Fools and Women, tied for third place in the competition. The Village Fools, composed of Larry Sedam, Horace Lewis, Keith Hutton, and Randy Maricle, boogied down to the beat of "YMCA". Angie Hawk, "Charlie" Smith, and Julie Gray were women dancing to "Women".

The class of 1980 will long be remembered as a small group of seniors with a big potential for the future.

JOHN THOMAS WEHRKAMP

The Southwestern REBIAN Staff and the student body of Southwestern High School dedicate the 1980 REBIAN to the memory of John Thomas Wehrkamp.

John was killed in a farming accident on January 19, 1980.

During his life John had many accomplishments and set a standard for which all students should strive. His hard work and dedication made him well liked by everyone.

John was the President of the Southwestern FFA for the past three years and was serving as District XII President when he died.

John's friendly smile, his keen, lively sense of humor, and his faithful dedication to his school will be missed by all who knew him.

Upper right: The seniors are seen leaving for Florida.

Middle right: Hey, Keith and Marty! You're just going for a week! Why bring all your worldly belongings?

Lower right: The brave and daring seniors posed for a few quick shots before pulling out.

OCEANS OF MEMORIES

"... twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two. All here. Let's go!"

With these words, the seniors rolled out of the parking lot and, heralded by the honking of the bus horn, began their twenty-two hour journey to the land of sun and fun.

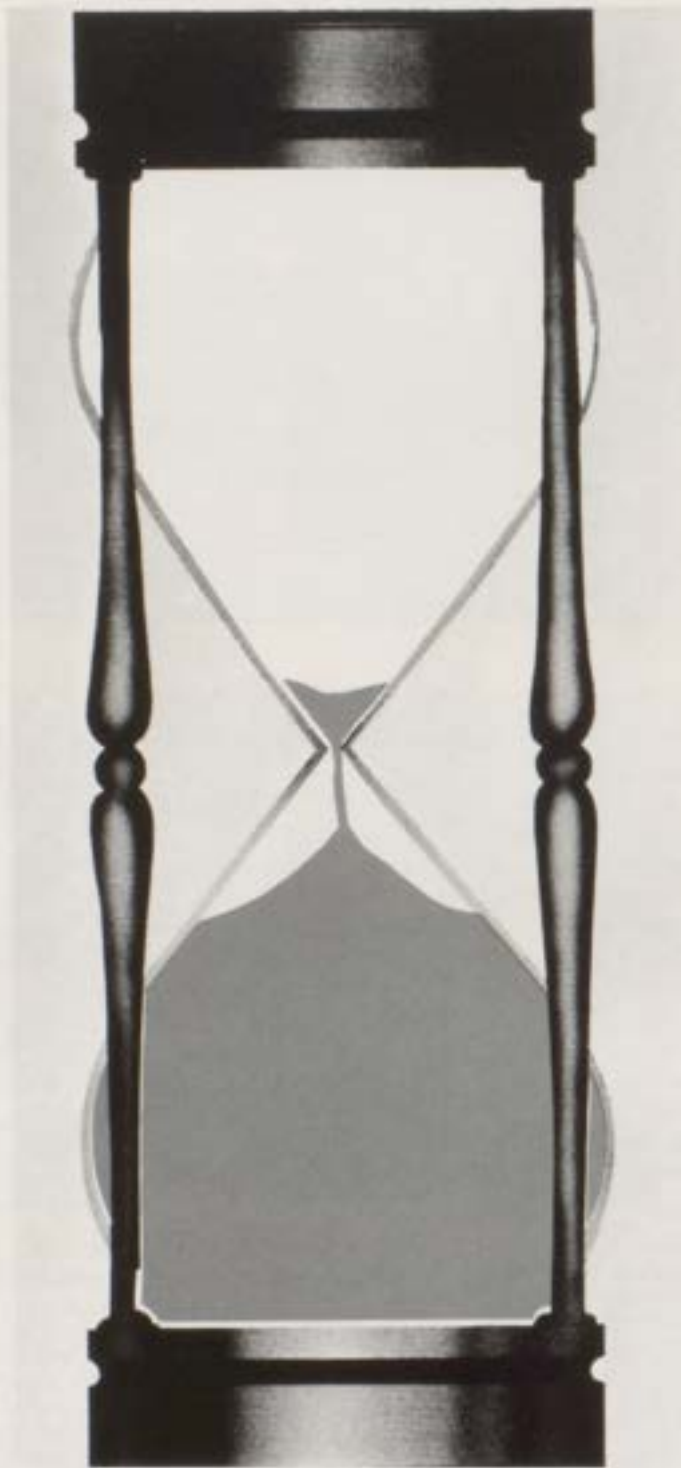

Headed by chaperones Mr. King and Mrs. Kershner, the seniors left at 1:00 p.m. on a cold, rainy Friday afternoon. After a long bus ride, the seniors pulled into St. Augustine, Florida early the next morning for breakfast, then continued to Daytona Beach.

A day and a half was spent basking on the beach, then the class motored to Orlando to spend an entire day in the Magic Kingdom. Leaving Disney World late Monday evening, the bus weary travelers returned home to Hanover Tuesday afternoon.

Upper left: Mark Totten is in deep concentration, trying to find a way home with all his souvenirs. So far he's found a place for the shirt and the hat he has bought.

Lower left: Debbie Bitner prepares herself for the long trip.

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

Have you ever stopped to think of who the people are who run the school? These people who work in the offices are just as important to the school system as the teachers and the students.

They are Delbert King, principal, Larry Moore, assistant principal, Jack Bowman, superintendent, David Mount and Carolyn Dershner, counselors, Jean Feider, Linda Dickey, and Karen Boldery, secretaries, and Brenda Taulman, in-school-suspension supervisor.

Members of the Southwestern School Board are: Bill Ford, Lori Ferguson, Karen Taylor, Don Bair, and Dick Shaffer.

These people keep the school running smoothly and help out with students' problems. Without the administrative staff we could not have such a great school.

Upper right: Principal Delbert King watches students in the hall between classes. This school year marks Mr. King's nineteenth year at Southwestern.

Lower left: Dr. Jack Bowman, superintendent, looks worried about what is going on in the office.

Lower right: The superintendent's staff includes sitting: Judy Taylor, Sharon Hay, and Arlene Davidson; standing Linda Shelley and Laura Boldery.

DEWEY WHO?

High school librarian Serena Keach and junior high librarian Joyce Ashbrook received a tremendous amount of help in maintaining the library from this year's library aids. Helping in the library enabled the students to learn more about the functions of a library as well as gaining school credits for their work.

The junior and senior high library aids worked at the desk, carded books and put the books back on the shelves. Other tasks included distributing audio-visual materials to the teachers and organizing all the new library materials that came in during the year.

Thanks to all the hard work of the librarians and aids, both libraries were well organized and efficiently run enabling students to find what they needed without trouble.

SWEEP-STEAKS

Monday through Friday teachers, administrators, and students report to school, go through the daily routine, and then go home. Often times the school aides are left out of the picture. The cafeteria workers spent many hours planning, preparing, and serving hot lunches everyday during the school year. On the other hand the custodians were responsible for the cleaning of the school and the appearance of the school grounds. Without their contributions it would be difficult for the Southwestern school system to function efficiently.

FINAL APPLAUSE

The blue and white robed seniors of Southwestern Consolidated High School entered the gymnasium on May 18, 1980 for the final farewell to their high school careers. Ushered by Donald Adams, Janet Kleopfer, Creg Atkins, Marlena Imel, William Johnson, Dawn Ligon, Terry Taylor, and Tammy Mahoney, the eighty-seven seniors became part of the pomp and circumstance. Timothy Brawner opened the ceremony with the delivering of the invocation. Student Speaker Donna Smith, Salutatorian Mark Totten, and Valedictorian Cristina Suárez presented speeches during the afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Carruba sang "I Wonder", a selection written by ABBA, to the accompaniment of Sara Springstun, flute, and Cristina Suarez, piano. The climatic point came with the presentation of the diplomas by Dr. Jack Bowman after he was delivered the class by Delbert King. The ceremony closed with the changing of the tassels by Teresa Melgard and the benediction by Janet Degler. To "Brighton Beach Concert March" the graduates of Southwestern Consolidated High School exited amid the grandeur and with a feeling of satisfaction.

Upper right: Teresa Melgard, President of the 1980 graduating class, leads in the changing of the tassels.

Lower right: Randy Maricle, Kent Hutton, and Mark Ashbrook reflect on their high school days before the ceremony.

Lower left: A white collar is needed on all the gowns of the graduation females in the class of 1980. Mrs. Carolyn Kershner, class sponsor, assists Rhonda Boldrey Buxton.

Lower right: Betty Ritchie, Marla Theiring, Rhonda Tackett, Angela Hawk, and Donna Smith line up in preparation for the pomp and circumstance.

Just as the sands of time slowly fall through the hour glass, this book has bottled twelve months of friends, activities, events, squeals of joy and tears of sadness. Time has passed, and there never seemed to be enough of it to accomplish everything. Although every day could not be saved within these pages, many of the highlights of the 1979-1980 school year were featured here. Reflections of the past brought to mind such events and people as ... a new assistant principal ... a semi-state cross country team ... Homecoming ... an award winning band ... state Media Fair winners ... junior high 50's Day ... John Wehrkamp ... junior magazine sales ... the All-Sports Trophy ... The Prom ... junior high volleyball ... in-school suspension ... "Our Town" ... National Merit Scholars ... assigned assembly seats ... junior high girls' basketball ... Spirit Week ... ORVC Golf Champions ... Project Think ... driver's education ... JCIT Champions ... new band uniforms ... Wrestling ... Art Club projects ... Honor's Day ... The Talent Show ... ORVC Basketball Champions ... the Olympics ... Graduation. All of these and many more were a part of time in a bottle.
