Jeremy Glurt draws his measurements in woodworking.

Angie Marshall, Tina Bransetter, Becky Glurt, Amy Mack, and Amanda Pyles sit and enjoy the shade at the Lanier Home.

"I really hate school lunch!" complains Jason Long.

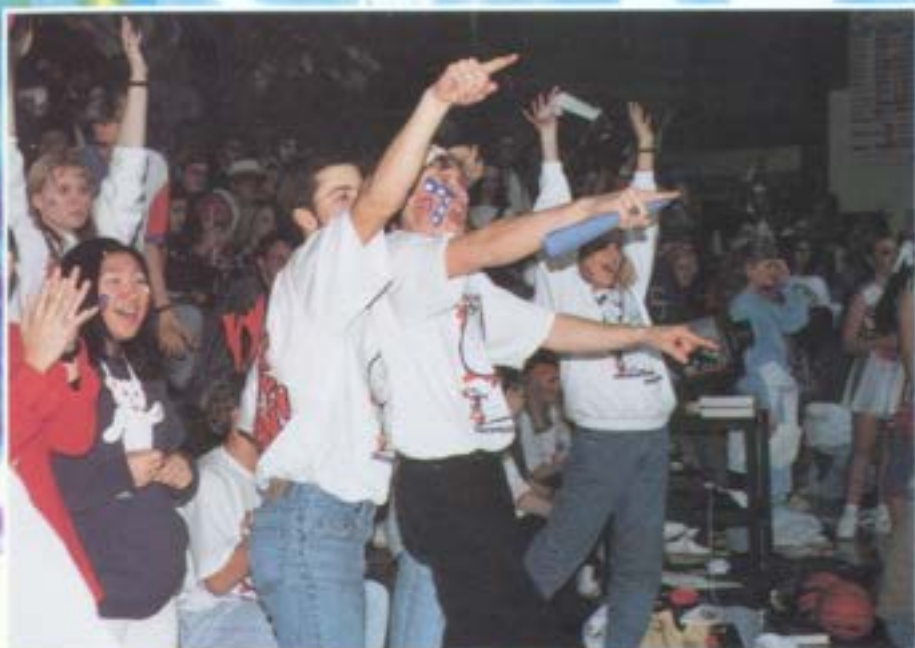

"Trick or Treat!" says Brittan Eblen, Chanele Barlow, Tommy Schneider, Megan Phillippe, and Megan Palmer at the Halloween dance.

Jessie Chandler is caught reminiscing on her senior year.

John Sampson and Greg Malone enjoy some time in the shade at the Lanier home.

Erin Northern and Erica Page fight their way through the crowded hallway.

"Get that camera out of my face!" yells Amanda Pyles.

Above right: Charles Huttsell and Monty Mason patiently wait in the hallway for lunch to be over.

The seniors performed their skits for spirit week.

Amanda Burrese shows her senior spirit.

"What are you looking at?" asks Chad Baldwin while he rides the bus with his friends Alisha Earl, Jason Smith, and Bridget Duncan.

Riding the bus, Josh Purvie is once again reprimanded for standing in front of the white line.

"Nope, not me, I don't have any home work," says Jeramie Yocum while sitting in study hall.

From King and Queen, Kristie Turner and Jeremy Jines danced to the song "Because You Loved Me" after the crowning.

Brian Bare receives a pillow from Mr. Kettig Coghill during the Senior Breakfast for him to use in class.

Amber Bredden gives her fingers a rest from the computers.

Jeremy Leach enjoys flashing the laser pointer at the camera since he can't shine it directly in Jason Smith's eyes.

Chad Baldwin, the only senior on the basketball team, relishes being Sectional Champ as he cuts down the net.

Jeremy Beavins raises the Rebel Flag over the Junior Class during Spirit Week. Jeremy was the Junior Class President who led the class in receiving the Spirit Stick.

Dawn Lindsay, the Senior Class President, is saying goodbye to her English book. As a senior, she has reached the end of her trip.

Merilee Taylor, a sophomore, creates more excitement at the basketball games in the Pep Band. She has been in Pep Band for four years.

During this l o n g STRANGE trip, we have made new classes united so closely as they have in this 1996-1997 together. We have become the epitome of what a small forget what a l o n g STRANGE trip it's been.

Breaking Out: Seniors Amy Mack, Becky Glunt, and Amanda Pyles own the hallways.

Louis Salomon helps junior Bryan Brown, who is obviously struggling with his assignment. He may not have much time for academics since he is involved in many other activities.

"What are you talking about?" asks senior Jessie Chandler to Carol Risk while Kristie Turner and Tara Roberteton listen in on their conversation.

Seniors Dustin "Bob" Van Tassel and Tyler Binion actually seem to be interested in their Physics class. Both are also the only senior members of the Rebel Regiment.

Music

Since they were in elementary school the Class of 2000 has always shared some of the same interests, from the clothes that they wear, the t.v. shows that they watch, right down to the music they listen to. Music will be there with them until they end the LONG STRANGE TRIP they began in 1997.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE TYPE OF MUSIC?

- 63% Alternative
- 23% Rap
- 14% Country

The most popular type of music will change throughout the years, but the old will always be a reminder of 1997.

"UGH!" Jessica Hay exclaims as she jumps over her opponents to grab the ball.

"Let me have that ball!" yells Carol Risk.

The first half of the season the girls were 3-7, and then the second half they were 7-3. They beat Scottsburg, which is something they have accomplished in 16 years. Early in the season, Madison beat them by 23 points. In the sectional championship game against the Cubs, Southwestern led until the fourth quarter. Even then they only lost by 6 points. It was an awesome game! The Lady Rebels finished strong in sectionals and had a good season, finishing 10-10.

Rebel Swimming

Boys & Girls Combine

The boys and girls swim teams were moved into the same season this year. At first it was a little hard to get used to the idea, but the team seemed to cope rather well. Coach Shelly Anderson said, "It's very interesting and very beneficial to both groups because we practice together, therefore everyone tends to work a little harder, and hopefully we will see the results at the end of the season." Anderson also said, "We also had to learn to share lanes with four or five people instead one or two." This added drive helped the team have a successful season.

1997 Swim Team includes: First, Kirstie Kleopfer, Dustin Singer, Myrle Solomon, Michelle Howard, Second: Amber Walker, Carol Kisk, Kari Adams, Casey Wilson, Lara Booher, Marcy Barr, Thindi Bryan Brown, Brian Phillips, Scott Brown, Fourth: Jay Crawford, Stephanie Wilman, Megan Palmer, Brian Barr, Coach Shelly Anderson, assistant coach Steve Singer

Time to wake up! Senior Megan Palmer looks to be taking a nap before the 100 yard Breast Stroke.

Hoping for another win, junior Carrie Royalty watches the competition.

Senior Jay Crawford encourages Bryan Brown before the 100 yard backstroke.

Junior Carol Kisk looks to see what her time was after swimming the 50 yard freestyle.

Freshman Dustin Singer waits patiently for the 100 yard Breaststroke to start.

WAKE UP! No matter where he is he looks like he is going to fall asleep, senior Brian Bare waits for the 100 Breaststroke to be announced. Bare holds the school record for the Breaststroke.

Senior Stephanie Wilman prepares to swim to one of her many victories.

You're not in the water yet! Junior Brian Brown prepares to swim the Backstroke. Brown was also the only diver on the boys team.

Walker won sectionals this year for diving. She also placed 4th at regionals and 12th at state for her excellent diving.

Time is our only

Boys Varsity Track Team is Jarrod Bruther, Dale Bird, Nick Graham, Justin Wentworth, Coach Doug McClure, Seth Leland, Josh Abbott, G.J. Gassert, Bruce Grimmet, manager Josh Myers.

Tired and worn out from a long day, Nick Graham finishes his last lap.

Right: Surprised that she might have won, Ami Furey walks past the finish line.

Preparing for his next event, Dale Bird stretches his hamstrings.

Coaches Paul Daniels and Doug McClure look on while Dawn Lindsey approaches determined to ask them a question.

Dawn Lindsey hands off to Ami Furey in their last lap of the relay.

opponent, so... RUN

Clockwise: Girls Varsity Track Team consists of Dawn Lindsey, Cara Garvey, Monaye Perry, manager Marie Cline, Brandy Box, Ami Furey, Tonya Bruther and Coach Paul Daniels. After a long day of events, G.J. Gassert does nothing but lie around trying to get a farmers tan. For a little extra support, Coach Doug McClure gives Jarrod Bruther a nice pat. Finishing his last event of his last year of high school, Senior Keith Chilton starts to slow down to a halt. While Dale Bird is trying to impress Marie Cline, Jarrod Bruther really shows him how flexing is done.

Practice, talent, and a lot of grunting has propelled senior Kristie Turner to the number one doubles position.

Junior Bristy Rusk, number two doubles player, completes her third year on the Varsity team.

Senior Megan Palmer plays number two singles in the Spring, but to her, Spring does not necessarily mean it is going to be warm.

BOYS AND GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

The 1998 Boys Cross Country Team included: (front row) Blake Deuser, Calvin Jent, Dustin Singer, Jarrod Bruther, Keith Chilton (back row) Nick Graham, Mike Bruther, Justin Wentworth, G.J. Gassert, Bruce Grimmer, and Coach Doug McClure.

A lap ahead of the rest is sophomore Josh Abbott.

Could senior Keith Chilton really be this happy to run?

G.J. Gassert and Justin Wentworth try to kick it in to beat the leading opponent from Milan.

The day was August the 12th, you see
 And a fatful number it would be
 A cool dozen of them would together comprise Or was that the dirty dozen by the smell of their feet.

As seven, all is quiet, on the first day
 But I knew that "quiet" would soon pass
 Fun and fun was to be had by all
 That was our first and foremost call
 Except for me you know what I like
 No way was I going without my bike
 Yeah so the chain broke a time or two
 But who has fresh legs when practice was through

Justin I know, wanted my wheels with spokes
 When he knew he couldn't have it he brought it back broke
 But Justin is tough, there is little doubt
 This guy got strong by homework stretching out
 And Justin, when he runs is never shy
 How did he say, "Off his brothers high!"
 And "G" kept us all in awful suspense
 Wondering when he'd again be attacked by a fire

The topic we found out was a sign of fate
 It would be more painful when he got hung up on the wheel

And yet again the pain once more came back
 When on the backboard his head did crack
 Bruce Grommet, we decided, had the strut
 Besides, this guy talks straight from his gut
 But I won't say too much more on it
 Or for the 60th time he'll threaten to quit
 And Jarrod mistook this sport for track
 "The 400 dash is what this lacks"
 Jarrod watched all his P's and Q's
 So I had nothing to say on him in this poem
 I'd often tell Mike, from the same tribe
 This is the 200, times twenty-five
 But I know he must have read Blake's book
 Pg. 9, line 12, "What to do when your whopped"
 Dale, I don't know how he stayed alive
 Playing Tennis and Cross Country at a track-o-five

We saw, in pool, that he was the ace
 When he put Josh and Keith both back in their place

Nick was our optimist, he had runner's mama but when with Justin he tangled, I diagnosed schizophrenia

Or was it Blake, Bruce, Dustin- I can't remember
 But I know, at one time he'd had us all dismembered

Keith had the toughest time before running

Coach I'll be there, my physical's coming
 But he had something, they all wanted to steal
 They say he brought, Taco Bell Happy Meal
 Dustin ran, and all I could tell
 Was that Strockdale told him this would be well
 Josh, how impressive that runner's name
 We all saw how smooth when he spilled his cookies

With his impressions, not to Calvin's luck
 We thought maybe he was bound to get stuck
 But Calvin was cool, calm as the breeze
 But Josh never followed him behind trees
 And Mike, we know him as "Mr. Stride"
 He doesn't do too bad to bench 100
 After our meet, he left us all
 And rushed home to see a girl play volleyball

He is shipped by this girl, of this I fear
 He embodies the term "Of Dear"

He has shorts numbered thirteen, no doubt
 But we'll be pressed to ever again find out
 This season, in fall, has been a blast
 And always, always, going too fast
 But not too fast, I found what was planted
 In my fuel cap, at home, I found the Ace
 Bandage
 Until next year when we're under the sun
 Come back again and, "Git ya some."

"No sweat!" says senior Brandy Box, as she coasts to the finish line with Erin Blasdel not far behind.

As high school students we are slowly approaching the end of our long strange trips. It has been a rollercoaster of a ride that is finally starting to slow down to a halt. 1997 was a beginning of new traditions for Southwestern which will account for the memories that will last us a lifetime. In many years we will look back in retrospect and think what a long strange trip it was.

From top to bottom: Jenna Daugherty and Tiffany Featherstone hustle to get to show choir practice. Marci Bear just grins and bears the harrassement of being a freshman. Susana Childress and Josh Purvis were crowned king and queen of homecoming while heading their court was prince and princess Trevor Crafton and Carrie Barker. Just doing the "dew" tennis partners Emily Beltzel and Kristie Turner take a time out for a Mt. Dew. The first ever snow king and queen were Lake Hamillton and Megan Palmer.

To vote for a candidate, one had to contribute money to the student council. Frustrated with their computers Amber Fresh and Lindsay Estes try to complete their yearbook assignments. All dressed up like a freak on Hippy Day, Chad Baldwin gives up his hippy sign. It must have been Crazy Hair Day as Susanna Childress and Dawn Lindsay sport an unusual look.

Who will ever forget the famous bomb threat that got us all out of class. Enjoying themselves are: (front) Bryan Hatchell, Beth Jenson and Brian Grigsby. (middle) Clayton Hamilton, Alisha Earl, Brittan Eblen, Kelly Wehner, Jeremy Toppe. (back) Clint Wynn, Jason Naylor, Kyle Weatherbee, Jason Kleopfer, Scott Smith, and Jeremy Liter. Enjoying her lunch time and patiently waiting for class to begin is Stephanie Sanders. "Ughh! This is so gross," exclaims Brandon Scroggins as he dissects his crayfish. Goofing off as usual, David Hallgarth waits for the bell to ring. "I don't know what it is, I just made it," says Tessa Wynn as she puts the finishing touches on her art project. "Huh?" as usual Blake Deuser is in his own little world. Sarah Abbott and Amy Scroggham cheer in hopes that their class will win.

The Senior girls all stick together for the garter ceremony.

Prom 1997

Best Friends Cara Garvey, Tamara Dearing, Amy Gassert, and Carrie Barker get together for a group hug during prom.

Josh Purvis, Jason Smith, David Halgarth and Brian Phillips wait patiently before they get to crawl across the floor and grab their dates' garters.

Carol Riek was crowned the 1997 Prom Princess.

Senior Nick Miller and his date paused for a picture on their way out to the dance floor.

The 1997 Prom King and Queen were Jeremy Jines and Kristie Turner.

"Show a little more leg!" exclaims Josh Kikta to Angie Wycoff during the garter ceremony.

Between Now and Forever

This isn't the only time we see Jeremy Glunt and Heather Eaglin like this, they are almost inseparable.

Junior Prince and Princess candidates Ricardo Tajonar and Elisha Mills also came as a couple to the prom.

Kuss Hensly and Senior Amy Lamb enjoy their third prom together.

Sophomore Tina Moore looks like she's really thrilled to be there, maybe she just lost her date.

Homecoming

The crown was a perfect fit for King Josh Purvis.

Juniors Amber Fresh and Eric Barnes wait patiently while they await the crowning of the prince and princess.

Princess Abby Lane gazes up at Susanna Childress in admiration, hoping someday that she may be queen.

Princess Abby Lane and Prince Logan hold hands as they get ready for their big walk in the gym.

Court of 1997

Sophomore representatives Teesa Wynn and Ty Eblen make such a cute couple.

As Camille Andrew hugs the 1997 princess Carrie Barker, Trevor Craften holds back his tears.

Seniors Brittan Eblen, Kirstie Beach, Susanna Childress, and Kristie Turner stand one last time together before one of them is crowned queen.

Freshmen Tiffany Featherstone and Dale Bird wait nervously in the cafeteria before homecoming.

Graduation

Class officers Kelly Wehner and Brittan Eblen gave the welcoming address at graduation.

Valedictorian Susanna Childress shakes board member Dr. David Palmer's hand as she receives her Academic Honor's Diploma.

Jessie Chandler and Erin Northern recall past memories of their long strange trip as they recited the class history.

Tears come to the eyes of Heather Eaglin, while Alisha Earl and Diana Dupraw sit and contemplate about the end of high school and their new lives yet to come.

Changing of the Tassels, a time honored tradition, signifies the start of a new life for the class of 1997, no longer will they ever be united as a whole class again. This long strange trip has come to an end, but a new and more exciting one is about to begin for these graduates.

The seniors sang their last note with the Show Choir at the commencement ceremony as Aaron Childress lead them in their song.

Class President Dawn Lindsey and Vice President Amanda Burrese give the Benediction to the graduates.

Jay Crawford and Kristie Turner sing their last performance with the show choir.

Quoting Jimi Hendrix and Janis Joplin, Stephanie Wildman delivered a speech her whole class could relate to.

Honors Day

Josh Purvis hugs Charley Stites-Foley as the other sisters, Jackie and Missy, watch after he receives the Brian Stites Memorial Scholarship.

Winning the St. Francis College Scholarship Award for outstanding scholastic performance was Martina Skirvin.

Mandy Coffman received the Alesha L. Shelton Memorial Scholarship.

Stephanie Wildman and her long time mentor and friend coach Shelly Anderson hug after an award.

Senior Breakfast

Jeremy Toppe can't deny it this time, the camera caught him popping the balloon.

Mr. Kettig Coghill, dressed in his tux, greets the senior class and their families before he and Mrs. Laura McDonald begin the presentation of the Senior Superlatives.

Standing in line at the Senior Breakfast, Diana Dupraw tries to decide what else looks good.

Standing in front of the Wall of Names after the Senior Breakfast are Brian, Debbie and Lake Hamilton; Janet, Mike and Josh Lichlyter; and Carol, Josh and Greg Purvis.

Spirit Week

What a strange trip it was during Spirit Week. It was an unusual week that started on Monday with pajama day and ended Friday with Red, White, and Blue day. That Thursday of spirit week, the first bonfire was held. There was a good turn out with students, faculty, and families. Everyone had a good time. On Friday the traditional pep rally was held. The classes found out who won all the competitions, and the seniors generally came out on top.

A group of the senior class shows off their spirit before the pep rally.

Lookin GROOVY on hippie day are juniors Beth Hayes, Amber Legrand, Summer Martin, Amber Fresh, and Bristy Rusk.

Friends Meghan Phillippe, and Jessica Wilson are caught having fun during the bonfire.

Senior Santa Claus Jason Smith says "PEACE" to everyone as he is on his way to win best float.

Getting one another all pepped up for the big game are juniors Danny Rice and Joe Stephens.

"Can you dig it?" says senior Jeremy Toppe.

The senior class shows their spirit during the pep rally.

What was the best part of Spirit Week?

"It was the competitiveness among the classes and the senior's victory," says senior Kelly Wehener.

Junior Miranda Huteell said, "The best part was definitely when juniors won spirit stick."

"I thought the best part was the bonfire. It was a blast," exclaimed sophomore Corey Peck.

Freshman Kristen Andrew said, "The best part was dressing up each day."

Above: Junior Summer Martin asks, "Whuz up?"

"What's happening?" ask seniors Jeremy Leach, Lake Hamilton, and Josh Lichlyter.

CARING GUARDIANS OF LIFE

410 W. LaGrange Rd. Hanover, IN 47243-9439

As we have grown up, we had a fairly easy ride compared to what is to come. But throughout this journey, we have all made friends and memories that will never be forgotten. We have all formed a bond that will never be broken. And as we come to the end of our journey and look back, we can not help but think,

What a Long Strange Trip It's Been.
